Georgia Gold.

Georgia is not a Klondike, but its auriferous deposits are rich and valuable nevertheless. The establishment of the great smelting plant costing $800,000 at Oakdale sixty miles from the Tallapoosa mines, and other late developments of our gold mining industry have brought to light facts that will surprise many people.

There is more or less continuous gold belts extending throughout the Appalachian range from Maine to Alabama, but only in the southern parts are the deposits extensive, and northern Georgia, as has been shown by the official report of the geological survey of W. S. Yeates, state geologist of Georgia, by Assistant Geologist S. W. Callie, made in 1896, is the richest portion of this southern belt.

It was in this favored section that gold to the amount of three ounces was first discovered by the white man in 1829, and soon after placer mining on a considerable scale was begun. So profitable became the working of placer claims that the United States government established a local mint, operated until 1861, for coining the output, which amounted in actual coinage during that period to $6,113,560. The total product of gold to the present time has amounted to $16,228,730, in the main part from placer mining in this section.

The working of gold mines by the most scientific modern methods for extracting gold by mechanical and chemical process has given a great impetus to Georgia gold mining, and the richness of the deposits making the industry one of great economic importance.—Macon Telegraph.

Ayers & Pike sent the Lumpkin convicts carried off from here last week to Oglethorpe county.

Try the new remedy for constipation, Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Every box guaranteed. Price, 25 cents. For sale by The Matthew's Drug Co.

Col. W. P. Price was recently elected by the Lumpkin county veterans to represent them in the reunion to be held at Memphis, Tenn.

The hateful bugs scarcely waited this year for the Irish potatoes to come up until they commenced on them, and if farmers and gardeners don't do something to kill them they will ruin their potato crop.

Judge Huff has sent off the last four volumes of the Nugget to have them nicely bound and placed in his office among the records to be ready for the inspection of those having business with them as the law directs.

We have heard of but one citizen who objects to the postoffice being continued in the court house. Every one knows that this is the central point, the most convenient and comfortable place in town, where there is ample room for every patron of the office in the city, and a big majority of the people want it to stay where it is.

Rev. Mr. Parks, of Gilmer county undoubtedly must be a servant of the Lord, for he comes more than 30 miles once a month and preaches to the people in Yahola district without charging a single cent. This is the kind of a minister that would suit some of the members of the church in Dahlonega who stay away from church to keep from being asked for money.

Hon. Saxon A. Anderson, of Marietta, accompanied by Mr. John Barker, of Toledo, Ohio, spent last Monday night at the Cobb hotel, on a return trip from Dahlonega. Mr. Anderson thinks Dahlonega another Klondike, and predicts that the companies which are operating for gold in Lumpkin county will make millions. He also informed us that Dahlonega is soon to have an electric railway connecting it with Gainesville.—Alpharetta Free Press.

W. H. Smith, one of the most prosperous farmers of Lumpkin county was in to renew his subscription to the Nugget on Thursday of last week and while talking told something that can be said by very few people here or anywhere else. Mr. Smith said that he had not touched a drop of liquor in 30 years and never spent but one nickel in his life for any kind of intoxicants. But this is not all. He has six grown boys that never tasted a drop of liquor. This is remarkable considering their surroundings, having been raised up in the mountains where liquor was made and used by people all around them. What is the result? Mr. Smith owns one of the best farms in the county and is doing well, having recently sold $50 worth of last year's crop of fodder in Dahlonega, while his sons are all prosperous, four of them doing a thriving mercantile business in their native county.

To-morrow (Saturday) the democratic primary takes place which will determine what democrat will be before the people for tax receiver. It is said that a republican will also be in the field which will make the race more interesting.

We advertised last week for a good boy who wanted to become a Devil. We stated that no tobacco user need apply. The compositor made us say, no tobacco chewer need apply, and so we hasten to amend. If we were compelled to choose between a boy who chews tobacco and a cigarette smoker we would take the former. The boy who is older enough to use tobacco in any form is too old to learn the printer's trade—in the Citizen of fice.—Fitzgerald Citizen.

Several weeks ago a lot of gravel was hauled by the council and piled up by the side of the walks on Clarksville street in several places with the intention of putting it on the walks. But there it remains untouched yet, while pedestrians go tramping through the mud when it rains shoe mouth deep. This reminds us of the way some people do sometimes about making bitters to drink for their health—tie the roots to the handle of the jug and use the liquor straight.

The Prison Mirror, published by the Minnesota penitentiary, says: "Why is it that from the first inception of our paper until the present time we never had an editor to sojourn in our midst? Other professions have been well represented. Of preachers we have had enough to furnish subsistence to an African chief for a year; doctors in sufficient number to depopulate a state, and enough lawyers to establish a good sized colony in Hades. But editors—none."

The government has about decided to award the lands in the Kiowa and Comanche reservations by lottery. This is the same government whose law forbids the transmission through the mails of any letter or newspaper containing anything relating to the result of a lottery drawing, or any other game of chance. When these lands are awarded by the government no newspaper can print the names of the winners without exposing itself to the heavy penalties laid upon such publication, if a single copy passes through the mail.—Fort Worth, (The,) Register.

One of the latest postoffice frauds now being investigated by the postoffice authorities at Washington, is that doctor who advertised to cure deafness for $18.50 without fail. To those who sent the required amount the Dr. forwarded 2,000 pills with directions to take one each day, and on account to miss a day, or the charm would be broken and it would be necessary to start all over again. As to the truth of this claim can not be put to the test until the end of about five and a half years, the authorities are puzzled as to what course to take.

Billiousness is a condition characterized by a disturbance of the digestive organs. The stomach is debilitated, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated. There is a loathing of food, pain in the bowels, dizziness, coated tongue and vomiting, first of the undigested or partly digested food and then of bile. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets allay the disturbances of the stomach and create a healthy appetite. They also tone up the liver to a healthy action and regulate the bowels. Try them and you are certain to be much pleased with the result. For sale by The Matthew's Drug Co.

A man who has been supposed to be dead for thirty-seven years has turned up in Indiana and wants a pension. He claims that part of his head was shot off during the war. However that part remains which enables him to appreciate the aid of a government pension. Doubtless he will want back rations with compound interest.—Ex.

Charles, "Louisa, my dear, don't you think you can economize a little? Discharge your nurse—Fred is quite big now most seven months old—and only keep one girl in the kitchen. I find I am living beyond my income, dear; and we must retrench somewhere."

Louisa, "Oh, certainly, love! and you sell your horses, and stop smoking those cigars that cost so much, and not have any little oyster and wine suppers, and give up your season ticket at the theatre; and, of course, if you sell the horses, you need not keep John to take care of them, as you say we must retrench somewhere."

Charles, "Well, dear, we won't talk about it any more, just now."

The best recommendation a boy can have, is that he is sober, and don't get drunk, nor smoke cigarettes. Business enterprises of this country are all being absorbed by corporations, great and small, and individual enterprise is being overshadowed by corporations. Many of these corporations will not hire a boy or young man, who uses liquor or cigarettes. Both are poisonous and cloud the brain, affect the eyesight and health, and the great railways and other corporations, can't afford to employ young men and boys who mind and health is shattered with alcohol and narcotics. What they want, and what the world wants to run its business, is young men of clean habits and steady nerves.—Marietta Journal.

Notice.—J. N. DuPree is now ready to do any kind of work, making and repairing guttering, etc.

FOR TAX RECEIVER.

We are authorized to announce the name of R. C. Menders as a candidate for Tax Receiver subject to the Democratic primary to be held on the 4th day of May.

By request we announce the name of James L. Healan as a candidate for Tax Receiver of Lumpkin county subject to the democratic primary.

We are also authorized to announce the name of J. N. Austin as a candidate for Tax Receiver subject to the democratic primary.

Election Notice.

Georgia, Lumpkin County. Office of Ordinary. To the qualified voters of said county. Whereas a vacancy has occurred in the office of Receiver of Tax Returns of said county, caused by the death of Charles W. Stargel, Receiver of Tax Returns, of said county, notice is hereby given that an election will be held at the various precincts of said county for the purpose of electing a Receiver of Tax Returns of said county to fill the vacancy of the unexpired term of said C. W. Stargel, deceased, on Wednesday, the 15th day of May, 1901. Said election to be held under the law in such cases made and provided. Given under my hand and official signature, this 18th day of April, 1901. J. N. HERR, Ordinary.

Consumption

is, by no means, the dreadful disease it is thought to be—in the beginning.

It can always be stopped—in the beginning. The trouble is: you don't know you've got it; you don't believe it; you won't believe it—till you are forced to. Then it is dangerous.

Don't be afraid; but attend to it quick—you can do it yourself and at home.

Take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, and live carefully every way.

WINE OF CARDUI
has brought permanent relief to a million suffering women who were on their way to premature graves. Mrs. Mitchell was fast declining in health, when Wine of Cardui performed a "wonderful cure" in her case. She suffered with the agonies of the womb, nervousness and prostrated menstruation. The weekly appearance of the menses for two months raged her vitality until she was a physical wreck. Her nervous system gave way. Then came the trial of Wine of Cardui and the cure. Mrs. Mitchell's experience ought to commend Wine of Cardui to suffering women in world of burning eloquence.

WINE OF CARDUI
is within the reach of all. Women who try it are relieved. Ask your druggist for a full bottle of Wine of Cardui, and do not take a substitute if tempted to do so.

Mrs. Willie Mitchell, South Gate, N. C. Wine of Cardui and Theodore's Balm in my case, I had been a great sufferer from falling of the womb, nervousness and my nerves came every week for two months and were very painful. For two hand induced me to try Wine of Cardui and Black-bread, and now the sufferer there has disappeared, and I am restored to perfect health.

In cases requiring special directions, address, giving name of the sufferer, to The L. L. L. Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, GA., MAY 3, 1901.
Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.
as Second Class Matter.

Tennessee is a head. She had a negro to freeze to death in April. A naval station in the Philippine Islands were destroyed by a cyclone the other day. Loss to the government of about $2,000.

Hon. W. S. Coleman, an old Dahlonega college student was the orator of the day during the memorial exercises at Rome, Ga., on the 28th.

It turns out that the negro who recently outraged Miss Rhody Alexander while she was fishing in the Savannah river was lynched and his body cast into the river.

The dailies report a heavy battle as recently occurring in the Philippine Islands, in which five of the enemy were killed and twenty-five guns captured. Such as this would not have been noticed in the civil war severely. But Uncle Sam can't afford to be too cruel for the war was first started "for the sake of humanity."

The democratic primary for tax receiver of Lumpkin county comes off to-morrow (Saturday). It is not supposed that a large turn out will occur as farmers are too busy to lose a day in the farm. Besides it is a "dry" race and those who attend generally more for the drinks than anything else, will have nothing to induce them to be there.

The train in which the president and his cabinet are making their 10,500 miles trip, consists of seven cars in all, comprising a private car for the president and wife, two Pullman compartment cars, two Pullman sleepers, a dining car and a combination car including a grand saloon, but the speed is so great that it cannot be harmed by sister Nations and her hatchet.

The citizens of Dahlonega will be glad to know that we are to have a bank established here right away by Mr. Carter of Blue Ridge, Ga., who visited the city a few days ago for an investigation. He writes that Mr. Bruce Crawford, of that city, will be the cashier. He will temporarily locate his bank in the office formerly occupied by Capt. F. W. Hall, adjoining the Union Company's Store. It has been many years since Lumpkin county has had a bank and the establishment of one now shows that Dahlonega is on rising ground.

In this issue will be found the announcement of J. N. Austin who is a candidate for tax receiver of Lumpkin county. Mr. Austin is no stranger to you for he has talked, prayed and preached enough in Lumpkin county to save every man, woman and child in it if they would take his advice. But he says you owe him nothing for this as he feels that a reward is ready for him above. He has been a cripple for years and what he wants now is the tax receivership of fee to help him be a little more comfortable while in his declining years. Can you do it? If you can he promises to perform his duties well and be a faithful servant of the people.

The discovery of oil in Texas has caused great excitement among the capitalists who are rushing to the state by the thousands. During the past week forty charters have been issued for companies, the capitalization aggregating $61,000,000. At Beaumont a writer to the Manufacturers Record says: The map on the streets in one case out of five has no where to lay his head. Exclusive right to a bed room is from $30 to $100 per month. Cots rent readily at $1 per night. Ten minutes options are given at certain figures and if the purchaser be too late, he will either lose the intended purchase or pay double. Men are carrying sacks of greenbacks around with them in grips and sellers will not wait till the buyer can go to the bank and return.

Mining Notes

The air compressor has reached the Barlow mine ready for business. The Jaquish dredge boat, now owned by McDonald, is at work in the Chestnut river.

The same officers were elected at the annual meeting of Crown Mountain held here Wednesday.

Work still progresses on the Standard property. Plenty of good ore is sighted now to keep a 50 or 60 stamp mill running.

The Findley mill is still running on time. The chute is not as good as it has been but they are on the streak expecting a swell in the vein every shot. Judge Murray is still carrying on development work with good results on the Jumbo property which will be continued until it is found what size mill is necessary to do a successful business.

The Consolidated Co., held their annual meeting at Toledo last Wednesday but we have not heard any thing from it before going to press. Several thousand pennyweights of gold in the quartz taken from the Findley chute were to be exhibited, which will cause the stockholders to open their eyes but to what end we do not know. We to what they will instruct the managers to let go the extravagant string to their plant here and touch the economical button so that the enterprise will begin to pay. By proper management it will yet do it by dividing the stamps at the Hand and put 20 at the Lockhart and 40 at the Findley. Then the 60 left can be kept busy quite likely both day and night, on ore from the Benning and at the Hand. Then it will pay provided they secure an experienced mill man at each place, as about $20 per month who can easily look after a mill without any assistant. The Hand mill and all mining down there except the hand in the tunnel and No. 1 shaft suspended last week for an indefinite period. Other expenses have been dispensed with. For some time a western man has been receiving $175 per month with an assistant at about $2 per day to look after the ten only stamps running, when the $2 man ought to and can take care of 40 or 60. This gives some idea of how extravagantly the expenditures have been by the managers.

One year ago last Wednesday the first stick of timber was cut for the Crown Mountain Company's dam. Being cognizant of the fact caused us to go down for the purpose of seeing what headway had been made at and about the plant, and we found great changes most of which are too numerous to mention. On top of the mountain is a large reservoir just completed in which water will be pumped from the Chestnut river in some thirty or forty days, a place where until recently we never expected to see a drop of water only as it fell from the clouds. Down at the plant we found a big dam and a large mill house finished, the crusher already in position and many thousands of pounds of other machinery already on the ground ready to be put in. The grading of a tramway and flume line from the base of the mountain to the mill was progressing. Hands were busy all along the line down to the mill. Some grading, others preparing the flume lumber while J. E. Sargent, foreman of the mechanics, had a number of men working on timbers for the mill, and just a few steps farther was a lot of hands building the foundation for two five foot Huntington mills. Every hand was at work, the foreman, and even general superintendent Chester, who had a level getting some grades. The entire works are destitute of high priced mounted bosses. Neither are there any ten dollar a day boss mechanics sitting around smoking fine cigars having two or three dollar a day each assisting in making frequent visits to some hidden jug of blockade liquor. Nothing of that kind down at Crown Mountain. Not a single person about the place is eating any idle bread, causing every one here to have the utmost confidence in the success of this gigantic enterprise. It is northern capital put into the hands of native miners of the most practical experience, who are taking great care to spend every cent of the money in the most economical manner. Nothing is being done for a show, unless it will be of benefit to the company. In this way the managers will be able to show the true value of the Georgia gold mines and cause capitalists not to be afraid any longer to risk their money in the hands of the native miner. It might be well enough to state here that we have no individual interest in the Crown Mountain mine. What we say about it is only as a matter of news. This company have never hired any newspaper man north or south to visit the mine to "write it up". Neither have they donated any stock to any one here or any where else just for an effect. No gambling has been engaged in. They have gone on in a business like manner as a merchant does when receiving new goods—opened up veins all over their property showing great quantities of gold, plainly visible to customers. And in conclusion we deem it well enough to state that during the twelve months the work has not a single accident has occurred to cause any suit for damages. We wish this and all other like enterprises success for the mining industry here is the life of the country.

A Card From Bob Meaders.

It is reported that I did not register last year in order to keep from taking part in the primary. It is a mistake positively. The registration book is the best evidence and easy to be seen; and I state in this public manner that my name is the first one on the registration list, and that I did take a part and vote in the primary. BOB MEADERS.

W. G. Keith returned from Atlanta the other day where he had been to stand the examination for the civil railway service.

A gentleman, of Kinderhook, N. Y., who owns mining property here in renewing his subscription to the NUGGET takes occasion to make the following remarks which show that he can put confidence in what we say as a newspaper man. He says: "I am delighted with the way you treat the mining interests and much pleased with the great result of Findley Ridge."

The little six year old boy of Ferdinand McDonald was shot and seriously injured last Tuesday afternoon by Hardie Grizzle, the 11 or 12 year-old son of U. S. Deputy Marshal Grizzle, with a 44 calibre pistol, the ball entering at the point of the left shoulder and coming out in the back. They were alone in a room at Mr. Grizzles when Hardie got hold of his fathers pistol and while playing with the weapon it is supposed, it discharged resulting as stated above. The little fellow is resting as well as could be expected and we trust that it will recover.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, MAY 3, 1901.

Matthews Sarsaparilla, full pint bottle for 75 cents.

Lumpkin county has one haitiff who wears a uniform.

The person not owning a nickles worth of property is always grumbling about high taxes.

You will have to lock your chicken coops or lose your fowls. Some one relieved Mrs. Mary Marlow's coop of two Wednesday night.

Thomas Tate, a brother of J. E. Tate, has moved to Dahlonega from Banks county and gone into business with his brother and J. S. Littlefield.

Judge Estes came up last Saturday and granted a charter to the North Georgia Electric Company, which has a capital stock of $50,000 dollars.

We understand that Gen. Warner, president of Crown Mountain Gold Mining Co., is going to build him a residence and permanently locate in Dahlonega.

R. C. Thomson, secretary and treasurer of the Consolidated Co., has been absent at his old home in Toledo this week attending the annual meeting of the company.

If you want to keep posted on the facts in reference to the mining interests in this section read the Nugget. It is no man or company's mouth piece and therefore can give the facts correctly.

Last Tuesday night while Mrs. Will Vaughn was at church a cat jumped up on the table, overturning the lamp where the children were at, but fortunately the fire was extinguished before damages of any consequence.

A company wish to advertise in the Nugget provided we will take fruit trees for it. Country editors cannot eat buds like a cow, neither are they able to wait several years for little trees to bear fruit. Send us the money if you wish to advertise where it will profit you.

MILLINERY.—"Imported designs skilled workmanship and ability to please the critical observer. Our reasonable offers are on display," speaks Miss Bessie Ashby and Mrs. Castberry, located in the east end of the Dahlonega Hotel building, who can also dress an old hat and make it look as well as new, and change your old feathers on new hats and cause them to appear as nice as can be desired.

The following letter was received by J. H. Moore, clerk of the Superior Court, the other day by mail, from a certain parent residing in Gainesville having a girl with an objectionable lover. The letter was turned over to ordinary Huff which read as follows: "Mr. John more you please do not give out any license to John White and Lula McCarty for me an her maw is a pock to her maring for she is under age 3 years yours truly."

The public school children all marched up to the college chapel by twos on the 25th where appropriate memorial exercises were held by the different societies of the college, not being able to decorate the soldiers graves until later for the want of flowers. The little pupils made a splendid show and the people of Dahlonega feel proud of them, their teachers and the institution which is accomplishing so much good.

Last Sunday was the most quiet Sabbath we have seen in a long time. There was no drinking and you could not even smell Peruna or lemon extract on any ones breath causing some to look very dry and wishful up till while before dark some of them succeeded in buying a couple of bottles of Peruna from one of the members of the council which fixed them up for the balance of the night, adding their brains so that they scarcely knew the way home, causing one to get so wild that he has quit the diggings. Peruna certainly gets in its work.

Try Matthews Co's Cough syrup for your cough.

We had the pleasure of gripping the hand of our friend and patron N. N. Littlefield, of Gainesville this week.

W. G. McNelly's write up of Dahlonega in the Atlanta Journal was a very thin thing last Monday. It contained but very little cream. Sheriff Davis' boy in a raffle succeeding in drawing a $85 watch the other day causing him to be one of the proudest little fellows in town.

J. Carter, of Gainesville, who sells Fancy Flour, has been up since our last issue making things white in residences where a good brand of flour is desired.

The cemetery at Macedonia church in this county contains the bodies of four persons that were killed, four that were crazy and four sets of twins.

W. M. Rox is now the general superintendent at the Hand mine who has made a good beginning, and apparently will do his employers some good and we wish him success.

The railroad surveyors completed a survey from New Bridge on up the river to Londons a few days ago after which they went back to make a run on the Murrayville route and are on this line now.

The case of Nannie Walker vs. M. H. Anderson, et. al., complaint for larceny, gained at the last term of the Superior Court by the plaintiff, has been carried to the Supreme Court through their attorney O. J. Lilly.

The amount received for the five convicts recently sent to the chain gang from this county was $240. And after the costs and all expenses were paid the county received $38.85. Had they all settled their fines and not gone to the gang the county would have received nothing.

One of the leading lawyers of New York, employed by the Consolidated Co., to look after their interest in the damage case of $4,000 commenced against them by Brady who lost one of his legs while at work for the company last year, was here last week getting ready to meet the suit.

Rev. Mr. O'Kelley, of Atlanta, is here now assisting his brother who is pastor of the Baptist church in a series of meetings which we hope will result in much good, although it is a hard matter to get up much of a revival in Dahlonega unless it is just after a few deaths or some contagious disease is expected.

It is reported that J. J. Marlow, of Dahlonega, was wedded to Mrs. Mary Mote, residing in Cano Creek district, on Thursday of last week, Squire James Ridley performing the ceremony. Mr. Marlow was down a few days ago but would not say whether he was wedded or not. Both have been married before and are old enough to know how to start out in a life of this kind without any advice from ye editor.

A number of northern capitalists have been here this week looking over the Crown Mountain property, being the first trip most of them ever made to Dahlonega. After a careful investigation of the mine they expressed themselves as being perfectly delighted with it, causing each to take stock. Before leaving they made a visit up to the power plant. The trip to the mountains was a big treat to them all.

Jim Austin, a colored farmer of this county is now plowing a cow. He has a couple of mules but Jim is a worker and wants nothing about him to be idle. He drank the cows milk until she went dry and in the fall he expects to eat and sell the corn produced by this useful animal. If all negroes worked like this one there would be few lawyers and the court houses would be so small that one would be necessary for each circuit, which could be carried from county to county by the Judge and Solicitor like men do their threshers in harvest time.

Mr. Foreman, who has been in charge of the Hand mine for some months returned to his home in the west first of the week.

It is said that a certain young lady of Nimbewill district will never forget one of her lovers because he gave her the itch.

Seth Duncan, who recently assaulted Will Brooksher, of Dahlonega, out in Pickens county with a knife was fined $100 and cost.

The Colored Odd Fellows will march from their hall to the court house on the second Sunday. Everybody invited out to see them.

The frost didn't kill all the fruit. There will be ample enough in this county to cause some of the blockaders to have to spend many months in jail.

Mr. George, who has been in Dahlonega for some time in the employ of the Consolidated company, left for his home in Tennessee this week.

Gen. Warner returned to the city last week. This time he is accompanied by Mrs. Warner, being the first visit we believe the lady has ever paid Dahlonega.

The commissions for the Notary Publics, recently appointed at the April Term of court have been received by the ordinary and are ready for the officials.

Will Brooksher, of Dahlonega, was arrested last Wednesday by Sheriff Davis on a warrant sent him from Pickens county charging Will with carrying a pair of knucks.

P. J. Moran of the Constitution was here last week taking in the mines with a view we suppose of telling the thousands of readers of that great daily what he saw and what he thinks of the operations, the railway and Dahlonega's future.

One of James Phillips' girls was up before Mayor Price last Saturday charged with whipping a little girl of H. L. Coffey the day previous. After the examination of a number of witnesses she was fined the usual amount, one and cost.

The contracts of repairing the court house were awarded to Mess. Nowt, DuPre, Will Ricketts and Will Crisson last Saturday, who are now engaged doing the work. They get $80.45 for the wood work and $55.50 for the tin work. No other parties bid for the jobs.

Some last years mountain cabbage from Union county were sold in Dahlonega last week. That county produces more cabbage and Irish potatoes than any other section in Georgia. Every farmer makes plenty of produce for home consumption and some to spare. The people of that county don't depend upon mining for a living.

John Green, col., who was carried off to the chain gang a few days ago for eating candy and cheese and exchanging smiles with Adline Elrod, a white woman, still holds his position in the church at this place. His case was sounded during conference last Saturday but there was no proof before the church of any bad conduct and the matter passed by. There was plenty of evidence before the last term of the Superior Court to convict him, but none of the witnesses were on hand at the church trial and would not have been competent witnesses had been present on account of them not belonging to the church.

An effort is being made to get Judge Newman to suspend the sentence of Francis M. Cochran who is now serving out a term of four months in Fulton county jail, also fined $100 for violating the Internal revenue law on account of the needy condition of his family residing in this county. He has a sick wife who it is believed will go crazy, having eight helpless children, the eldest being only eleven years old. This is the first time that Mr. Cochran has ever had a case in court of any kind and his neighbors sympathize with him and especially his wife and children who have no one to care for them in their needy condition.

Over on the Chestatee river the other day a popular tree made 4,500 feet of lumber which was sawed for Mr. Ashley, who is preparing to build another mining boat. This is an extra large size tree for this country.

A lady carrying a double barreled shot gun across the square last Saturday caused some to gaze with curiosity. She meant no mischief, being an industrious woman living in the country who is not so modest but what she can look after anything for her husband when she comes to town while he is at work in the field.

One night last week while a certain fellow was loaded with some kind of intoxicants, he fell into a shaft down at the Hand containing ten feet of water. Fortunately he was not hurt, but quite chilly. When he reached the top of the shaft he hung his clothes on the boiler to dry where no fire had been for several days. He must have been drinking Peruna.

The Secretary of State granted the Dahlonega and Gainesville Electric Co. a charter last Friday, and as soon as the survey is completed and it is found to be a practicable route then a move will be made to see how bad the people of Gainesville and Dahlonega want the road—in other words how much they will subscribe towards its construction, amount not to be due or paid until the road is completed and the cars running to Dahlonega.

We had one friend to tell us the other day that he prayed for us frequently. This is very thoughtful. We failed to ask him whether these were general prayers like members of the church often offer up or whether they were special ones like those in behalf of Queen Victoria before she died or some other person of note. Any way, let this be as it may we return him our sincere thanks. If we can't get a whole loaf we will willingly take a half.

United States Deputy Collector Richardson has been up here playing the wild again in company with Marshal Grizzle. On Thursday of last week they went out into the eastern portion of Lumpkin county and cut up a 70 gallon still belonging to Marion Turner and Geo. Peck, besides destroying 1,600 gallons of beer and a barrel of syrup. The next day they visited Dawson and destroyed another 70 gallon still, 2,000 gallons of beer and a sack of barley malt, being the property of Sam Rous. No arrest at either distillery.

News reached Dahlonega last Friday that A. Cochran, of Lumpkin county, had shot and dangerously wounded Jeff Eubanks, of Dawson, on Wednesday previous. It is stated that on Tuesday before some unpleasant remarks were made to Cochran about his wife causing the latter to return the next day while intoxicated and after calling Eubanks to the door shot him in the left arm with his gun, fracturing the shoulder in such a manner that it is doubtful about his recovery. Cochran had always been considered a very peaceable, law abiding citizen. No arrest at last accounts. It is believed by some that Cochran is crazy.

During the last heavy rain the dressing room out at Cano Creek falls was washed away and the people in that section are glad of it. The actions that were carried on at the falls last summer by some were very disgraceful. Once while a woman of questionable character was in bathing with another church member she came near losing her life. Other worse occurrences in society took place frequently, causing it to be quite a favorite resort, and we suppose the Lord decided if the people would not take warning that he would make a clean sweep of the building. We could tell you many things that would make you open your eyes.

F. E. Ikes, of Toledo, a large stockholder in the Consolidated Co., who has spent much time at the mines of the West, has been here for several days looking after his interests. Mr. Ikes is not one of the "know all" men we often hear of and see, but is around talking to the natives learning all he can about their manner of conducting the mines of this country apparently willing to take advice when he sees that it is beneficial.

It seems that Clarence Bowling, who came from Ducktown and has been at work in the mines here for some time, skipped out leaving his board bill unpaid at Mr. Cavenders to the tune of fifteen dollars. And besides this he got some money from a certain official, and maybe others, with a promise of bringing back a gallon of liquor for medical purposes. This occurred last Saturday and neither man nor liquor has been heard of since, and oh how dry that official looks.

W. H. C. Tate, the recently appointed postmaster of Dahlonega took possession last Wednesday morning and Judge Brittain stepped down and out with the "thanks of the court." Postmaster Tate says that he expects to do everything in his power to accommodate and please the people, but does not intend to have boys and young men playing and yelling at the office of evenings as has been done. He says that they will be expected to behave like people do at other postoffices. A window will be made where no one but ladies may expect to get their mail. J. A. Howard, an old post office hand, and former assistant postmaster Price will help until the postmaster and assistant get acquainted with the business of the office.

In this issue you will find the advertisement of Tate, Littlefield & Co., who have just opened out a general mercantile business in the Tate building with T. S. Littlefield as general manager. You are all acquainted with the members of this firm and their manner of doing business, especially when it comes to the general manager who has done business in White county, Gainesville and Dahlonega, giving him a better chance to know where and from whom to purchase goods so as to enable him to sell to his customers at very low figures either for barter or for cash. Here are some of his prices: 10lb. Granulated sugar $1.00. 10lbs. coffee $1.00. 1st patent flour, quarter sacks 65c. Half patent 60. Checks 4 to 6c. yard. Calico 4 to 6 and everything else in proportion.

Frank L. Murray, through his attorneys, Howard Thompson, of Gainesville, and Spencer R. Atkinson, of Atlanta, has filed a suit in the clerk's office of Lumpkin county against Joel T. Miller, Daniel Howell, Robert S. Disney, Charles F. Perce and T. R. Cravens, all being members of the Dahlonega Mining and Milling Co., organized for the purpose of buying and working certain mining lots in this county known as the Briar Patch property, except Miller and Howell, owners of the property, charging them all with cheating and defrauding, asking for an injunction and the appointment of a receiver which will be heard by Judge Estes on the 15th inst., defendants to be represented by Solicitor General Charters, of Dahlonega. Fields Wilson is acting as temporary receiver. The option shows the figures to be $50,000, with two or three credits and extensions. Mr. Murray, who became interested later on alleges that the purchase price of the property was only $85,000 and that the credits of about $18,500 marked on the option were never made, and that he has expended for development work, machinery, etc., something like the above amount himself. There is always two sides to a case. Col. Charters not having filed his answer yet. What the results will be we cannot say.

Should Not Misrepresent Mining.

"The Consolidated Company has done more for the welfare of Dahlonega and the South than any industry ever started here. The Signal is sorrow to say that a few of the narrow minded misled people of this town are at present engaged in the nefarious business of misrepresenting the Consolidated company who are at the head of this company. The Signal knows for a certainty that the company and those representing its interests are enthusiastic for the welfare of Dahlonega and her people. The Signal is for the Consolidated every day in the week, and all day Sunday. We appreciate the fact that the Consolidated people have come into Georgia, and have spent their money up here among the mountains of Lumpkin county, of course for their own benefit, but at the same time for every inhabitant of Lumpkin county. The Signal unreservedly states, and we believe that we are backed by the best people in the county, that the person who will discount and wilfully misrepresent the mining interests of this section, and especially the Consolidated, is not worthy the name of a good citizen."

We find the above paragraph in last weeks Signal, written or dictated by a Consolidated man, being one of the few who has made money out of this mining scheme while a majority of the stockholders have suffered, all caused by the mismanagement of those put in charge. The Signal is correct in stating that a man who misrepresents the mining interests is unworthy the name of a good citizen, and it might have added that the editor of a newspaper who tries to conceal facts about the Consolidated or any other mine is not fit to carry guts to a bear.

The Consolidated Company or its managers have spent a lot of money in Lumpkin and adjoining counties, thousands of dollars in a useless, careless manner. First building a fine big costly hotel which has never been occupied except a very short time by its president, purchased a large amount of city property, took options on a vast amount of other property in Lumpkin and adjoining counties, graded roads and built plank side walks, strung thousands of feet of electric wires all over the streets of Dahlonega, lighting up some of the churches, none of which could possibly be of any benefit to their gold mine. Besides this, erecting a 120 stamp mill and a big chlorination plant down at the Hand. Many bosses from Tennessee and the West being brought here and put in charge at fancy salaries. What's the result? The expenses run away with the profits. Only a few stamps of this big mill have been running and most of the gold escaped from these, and no fire has been put about the chlorination plant for months.

All these expenditures have cost a vast amount of money, and the stockholders in the north are at a loss to know the trouble. They were led to believe by some of the promoters that the mine would pay dividends more than a year ago but they find that they have been deceived. We told them that mining would pay here and they ask why is it their investment has been a failure. We have been telling from time to time that it is owing to bad management. We felt it our duty to do so. We all need money in this country but we, as an editor would not invite any man and ask him to invest his means here in any thing unless we believed that he would succeed where common sense judgment is used.

As we stated that some of our northern friends had been misled we publish one among the number of letters we have received to show that we are not guessing:

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., April 13, 1901.
WM. B. TOWNSEND, ESQ., DAHLONEGA, GA.,

DEAR SIR:— Being a stockholder in the Consolidated to the extent of a few thousand shares your remarks last week and the week before were read by me with much interest and I desire to thank you for coming out and giving the truth if such is the case. I bought this stock two years ago being assured that I should receive dividends beginning January 1st, 1900, and the only thing I have received has been a few circular letters and a picture book and if you can give me any information on the subject I should be pleased to hear from you at any time.

Yours truly,
H. E. SCHROCK,

George M. Ray, editor and publisher of the Shelbyville (Ind.) Daily Democrat, has just entered upon penitentiary sentence, but he will conduct his paper just the same. He is determined to continue the bitter denunciation of his political foes, who, he charges, are responsible for his conviction on the charge of defrauding Shelby county on printing contracts. Ray is under an indeterminate sentence of from 2 to 14 years. Ray will labor in prison during the day, performing manual toil, while during the evening and until lights are put out he will prepare the editorial matter for his paper in the solitude of his cell.

"It is with a good deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Druggist A. W. Sawelle, of Hartford, Conn. "A lady customer, seeing the remedy exposed for sale on my show case sent to me: 'I really believed that medicine saved my life the past summer while at the shore, and she became so enthusiastic over its merits that I at once made up my mind to recommend it in the future. Recently a gentleman came into my store so overcome with colic pains that he sank at once to the floor. I gave him a dose of this remedy which helped him. I repeated the dose and in fifteen minutes he left my store smilingly informing me that he felt as well as ever.' Sold by The Matthews' Drug Co.

The contractors commenced last week to build the pillars for the new bridge across Chestate river.

Miss Florence Newman, who has been a great sufferer from muscular rheumatism, says Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only remedy that affords her relief. Miss Newman is a much respected resident of the village of Gray, N. Y., and makes this statement for the benefit of others similarly afflicted. This liniment is for sale by The Matthews' Drug Co., Shelbyville, Ind.

THE CROWN MOUNTAIN GOLD Mining & Milling Co.

The Crown Mountain properties are situated in the very heart of the Georgia gold belt and is the radiating center of all the leading gold veins of the Dahlonega district. They embrace what is believed to be the mother lode of the Appalachian Range.

The extensive and rich ore bodies in sight upon these properties assure long continued mining operations and the indisputable guarantee of the permanent and increasing value of the stock of "The Crown Mountain Co."

The projectors of this company were the first to revive the mining interest in this district in 1896. After three years of careful and exhaustive examination of all the mines of the district of reputation as gold producers, and they had the choice of all, they selected the Crown Mountain combination as the best gold mine of the district which would yield or produce the most gold with the least expense. This opinion is shown by all the mining engineers, mining experts, miners and citizens of any standing in the district who are familiar with the properties. As an evidence of this we herewith state that more of the citizens of the town of Dahlonega and vicinity have taken stock in this company than have in all the other companies combined that have originated in this district.

The company is to be managed by practical business men—who have given much of their time to mining and mining operations and always with unvarying success.

The present directors are for the most part composed of men who have had much experience in the mining enterprises, and under their efficient and economical management, and by reason of a visible gold supply that is practically inexhaustible, an investment in the stock of this company is undoubtedly safe. The capitalization of the company is not commensurate with the visible productiveness of the properties and is meagre compared with the capitalization of other justly celebrated mines in the district, but the management believe it will be able to make the stock worth above par.

We invite all prospective investors to make a personal inspection of the mines. We also invite them to examine all the other mines in the district—compare the quality and quantity of the ore and the facilities for economically treating the same. We have no fears of where the choice will fall.

Until further notice of advance in prices, the stock of this company will be sold at the minimum rate of $5.00 per share. For further information apply to J. F. or J. H. Moore, Dahlonega, Ga., at Douglas & McCabe, 10 & 12 West Spring Street, Columbus, Ohio, or Gen. Warner, Marietta, Ohio.

CATARRH CAN BE CURED BY Johnston's Sarsaparilla QUART BOTTLES.

"DANGER IN THE EARTH AND AIR; DANGER EVERYWHERE!"

A Wise and Venerable Doctor Talks about Advanced Syphilis.

In a leading hotel, in a great city, a famous and aged physician was conversing. Listening to his wise and sententious discourse, were a group of well-dressed men, evidently lawyers, business men and commercial travelers.

My firm belief, is "that medical science is certain yet to show that all diseases without exception are caused by invisible germs which are living organisms. Here is the germ of that terrible disease diphtheria. Here is the bacillus of typhoid fever; and here is the still more dreadful bacillus of tubercula which causes that most destructive of all diseases, consumption. This of that very common and supposed incurable disease, catarrh."

"I wish, Doctor," said the traveling man, "that you would tell us about catarrh. I have had it for years, and I am thoroughly discouraged."

The Doctor answered, "Catarrh, like diphtheria, consumption, typhoid fever, and a host of other diseases, is the result of a microbe invading the blood and attacking especially the mucous membrane. This foul and most disgusting disease is especially prevalent in the United States and it is rare to meet one who is not, or has not been troubled more or less with it. How often is he or she obliged to remain at home from pleasant entertainments, deprive themselves of many intellectual treats, from fear of the disagreeable odor arising from catarrhal affections. In its worst phase, the patient becomes loathsome both to himself and his friends."

"I believe," continued this great physician, "that the true way to heal catarrh is to medicate the blood. This can be done only by powerful alternatives which act as blood purifiers."

Betty A. Maret, of Manistee, Manistee Co., Mich., writes: "Dear Sirs:—For ten years I was a sufferer from general debility and chronic catarrh. My face was pale as death. I was weak and short of breath. I could hardly walk. I was so dizzy and had a ringing in my head all the time. My hands and feet were always cold. My appetite was very poor. On getting up in the morning, my head swam so I was often obliged to lie down again. I had awful pains in the small of my back. I had a continual feeling of tiredness. My muscular power was almost entirely gone, and I couldn't go half a dozen steps without stopping to rest, and often that much exercise caused me to have a pain in my side. It seemed as though the blood had left my veins. The doctors said my blood had all turned to water. I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I tried the best physicians in the state, but failed to get any relief. My husband got me a bottle of Johnston's Sarsaparilla. I took it, and then I bought another. When these had been used, my blood was somewhat improved in health. I continued its use, and felt I was growing stronger; my sleep was refreshing, and it seemed as if I could feel new blood moving through my veins. I kept on taking it, and now consider myself a well and rugged woman. I work all the time, and am happy. I am positive that the Sarsaparilla saved my life. The sick headaches I have had since childhood, have disappeared and my catarrh has almost entirely left me. I cannot be too thankful for what Johnston's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I recommend all women who have sick headaches to use your Sarsaparilla."

CITATION.

State of Georgia, Lumpkin County.

Whereas, certain petitioners have made their application to this court praying for an order granting the establishment of a new road, commencing at or near the gate on the "Black Mountain" road near the residence of Wm. Lance, and running by Yahooks post office, W. H. Riels and A. C. Jacksons, and intersecting with the "Grassy Gap" road near the Paupers Home of said county; and, whereas, commissioners appointed for that purpose have reviewed and marked out said contemplated road, and reported to me that said road will be of much public utility and convenience, now this is to cite and admonish all persons that on and after the 15th day of May, 1901, said new road will be granted if no cause is shown to the contrary.

Given under my hand and seal this 24th day of April, 1901.

Hopes of Boys.

In a recent address in Chicago the statement was made: "The day has gone by when the talk that a boy may reach the White House, even though he is born in poverty, would amount to anything. From log cabin to White House has become an impossibility. We haven't the open door any more for the boy born of poor parents. Higher education has driven the poor boy to his place in life. No more can we hold out the hope to a struggling boy that he can become President of the United States."

About one person in one hundred will agree with those statements. The other ninety-nine will estimate them as they should be. Why should a boy hope to be President of the United States? The idea involved in such a hope is responsible for the ruin of more boys, perhaps, than any ten other influences in American life. In other words, the desire to hold political office is a widespread disease, sapping legitimate ambition and unfitting the rising generation for useful careers. Boys should cease to aspire to the Presidency of the United States or any other political office. They should hope to become president of an iron company, or a railroad company, of a cotton mill, or a rice company. Politics is a waste, both for the man who holds office and for the people who support him. It can do a young man no good.—Southern Magazine.

The currying of knucks is a rapid growing evil. Some three or four true bills were returned by the recent grand jury of Lumpkin county against persons who have been carrying them. The legislature should prevent their sale. They are nothing but skull crushers, and the man or boy who carries them will be sure to get into trouble.

Try the new remedy for constive ness, Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Every box guaranteed. Price, 25 cents. For sale by The Matthew's Drug Co.

Drinking a Tear.

"Boys, I won't drink unless you take what I do," said old Josh Spill, in reply to an invitation. He was a toper of long standing and abundant capacity, and the boys looked at him with astonishment. "The idea," one of them replied, "that you should prescribe conditions makes us laugh. Perhaps you want to force one of your abominable mixtures down us. You are the chief of mixed drinkers, and I won't agree to your conditions."

"He wants us to run in castor oil and brandy," said the Judge, who would have taken the oil to get the brandy.

"No I'm square. Take my drink, and I'm with you."

The boys agreed, and all stood around the bar. They turned to Spill, and all looked at him with interest.

"Mr. Bartender," said he, "give me a glass of water."

"What! water?"

"Yes, water. It's a new drink to me. I'll admit, and it's a scarce article, I expect. Several days ago a party of us went to a fishing. We took a fine lot of whiskey along and had a heap of fun. 'Long to ward evening I got powerful drunk, and crawled off under a tree and went to sleep. The boys drank up all the whiskey and came back to town. They thought it a good joke because they had left me out there drunk, and told it around town with a mighty blaster. My son got hold of the report and told it at home. Well I lay under the tree all night, and when I woke in the morning, my wife sat right there beside me. She said nothing when I woke up, but turned her head away, and I could see she was choking."

"I wish I had something to drink," said I. Then she took up a cup that she brought with her, and went to where a spring came up, and dipped up a cupful and handed it to me. Just as she did she leaned over to hide her eyes. I saw a tear drop into the water. I took the cup, and raising my hands, I vowed that I would never drink my wife's tears again as I had been doing for the last twenty years, and that I was going to stop."—Houston's Weekly.

MILINERY.—"Imported designs skilled workmanship and ability to please the critical observer. Our seasonable offers are on display," speaks Miss Bessie Asbury and Mrs. Castleberry, located in the east end of the Dahlonega Hotel building, who can also dress an old hat and make it look as well as new, and change your old feathers on new hats and cause them to appear as nice as can be desired.

Mr. Vanbiko of Ohio who is interested in dredge mining with Mr. Ashley, was in the city a short while last week.

What a Farmer May Do.

He can raise from 200 to 300 bushels of sweet potatoes or from 100 to 400 bushels of Irish potatoes to the acre, and for $50 he can build a house that will keep them the year round.

He can plant one acre of artichokes and fatten fifty hogs on it; the hogs can do their own digging, and waste nothing.

He can raise all kinds of stock 100 per cent. cheaper than it can be done further north.

He will not have to fertilize his land to make it yield a good harvest, although here, as elsewhere, judicious fertilizing generally pays.

He can run a farm without a mortgage on it.

He can raise finer fruit, a greater variety and more of it, than any other country in the world.

He can have vegetables on his table the year round.

He can plant one acre in cane and make 200 gallons of beautiful, clear syrup with no sorghum twang to it.

Bees require no attention further than taking what honey you wish. Wet land sown in redtop, forms an everlasting meadow of the 'finest hay in the world.

One-half bale to one bale of cotton is the average yield, although one and one-half bales per acre is not an uncommon crop.

There never has been a total failure of crops since the war, and but few parash ones.

One hundred peach trees can be planted to the acre, and three to five bushels of choice fruit per tree can be counted on after the third year.—Cotton Planters' Journal.

Believed at Last He Was Swindled.

"Ethel," said Lionel Bertram Jones, as he dropped his slice of bread in the plate with a noise that set the canary in the gilt cage overhead chirping merrily. Ethel, I have something to say to you."

They had been married only four weeks and the time had not arrived when she did all the saying. "Do you remember the day on which I proposed to you?"

"Yes," she replied, "I will never forget it."

"Do you remember," he went on, as he abstractedly drilled a hole in the loaf with the point of a carving knife, "how, when I rang the bell, you came to the door with your fingers sticky with dough, and said you thought it was your little brother who wanted to get in?"

"Yes."

"Oh, Ethel! How could you?"

"How could I what?" she responded, as a guilty look crept into her face.

"How could you make me the victim of such a swindle?"

The southern cities through which President McKinley passed last week gave him the grandest reception ever given to any president before in the history of the country, convincing the great chief that he is most heartily welcomed everywhere.

Biliousness is a condition characterized by a disturbance of the digestive organs. The stomach is debilitated, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated. There is a loathing of food, pain in the bowels, dizziness, cough, tongue and vomiting, first of the undigested or partly digested food and then of bile. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets allay the disturbances of the stomach and create a healthy appetite. They also tone up the liver to a healthy action and regulate the bowels. Try them and you are certain to be much pleased with the result. For sale by The Matthew's Drug Co.

NOTICE.—J. N. DuPree is now ready to do any kind of tin work, making and repairing guttering, etc.

Doctor's bills come high in Pennsylvania. The doctor, for instance, who waited on Cris Magee has put in a bill for $190,000.

The indications are now that we will have another wedding in Dahlonega soon, that is if a certain young man wants to marry, for some of the young ladies are acting like it was leap year.

Two druggists of Atlanta, W. S. Elkin, Jr., and Dr. Joe Jacobs had a bloody fight in the streets of that city one day last week in the presence of several hundred people. As each has plenty of medicine they can soon heal their wounds while the court will take care of its interests.

There is much conning of family Bibles in Wilkesbarre, Pa., these days. Recently the Widow Richards, lately bereft, turned to the family Bible for consolation. As she fingered the leaves a piece of paper fluttered to the floor. She picked it up. It was a note for $89,000, made payable to her late husband, and signed with the name of one of the richest men in town. She shot the book hastily, and put the note into process for collection.

When a splinter has been driven deeply into the hand it can be extracted by steam. Nearly all a wide mouthed bottle with very hot water, place the injured part of the hand over the mouth and press it slightly. The suction thus produced will draw the flesh down, and in a minute or two the steam will extract splinter and inflammation together.—Ex.

Col. Jacob Coxey, of Ohio, who only a few years ago marched an army of hoboes to Washington to witness the death of the republic and convert the constitution into a shapeless mass of paper waste, is now building steel mills and floundering in a veritable deluge of prosperity. We are forced to the melancholy conclusion that Col. Coxey has been bewitched by the "money power," says the New York Mail and Express.

A story told of a farmer who was approached by a man who wanted to sell him a bicycle. "Now is the time to buy," said the man "bicycles were never cheaper, I can let you have one for $35." "I'd sooner put the money in a cow," said the farmer. "Oh, I know you could get a cow for that money," said the man, "but think how foolish you'd look riding around your farm on a cow." "Wall," replied the farmer, "I don't know as I'd look any foolisher doing that than trying to milk a bike."—Chelsea (I. T.) Reporter.

The effort of any newspaper to build up a town is practically nullified unless it is backed up by the business men of that town. A stranger turns from the news columns, of a paper to its advertising columns, and if he fails to find there the business cards of the merchants and professional firms he comes to the conclusion that the editor is not appreciated, in which case it is a good place to keep clear from. No town ever grew without the assistance of its papers. Nor can papers grow and build up their localities, without the assistance of the town. Business men should realize this, remember that in lending support to their local paper they are not only building their own business but are helping to support that which is steadily working for the best interest of the whole town.—Sparta Ishmealite.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

is a food medicine for the baby that is thin and not well nourished and for the mother whose milk does not nourish the baby.

It is equally good for the boy or girl who is thin and pale and not well nourished by their food; also for the anemic or consumptive adult that is losing flesh and strength.

In fact, for all conditions of wasting, it is the food medicine that will nourish and build up the body and give new life and energy when all other means fail.

Should be taken in summer as well as winter.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, MAY 10, 1901.
Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.
as Second Class Matter.

Chestnut and Jordan, the Macon express robbers, are now serving out a seven months sentence each, caused by a bottle of liquor.

L. G. Edwards has bought a half interest in the Blue Ridge World. A long and prosperous business is our best wishes for the editors and proprietors of this interesting paper published in the mountains.

In another column will be found the announcement of James L. Healan for tax receiver, who was nominated by the democratic primary last Saturday. Mr. Healan is a worthy citizen, competent to fill the place and will make a good officer if elected.

Judge Evans charged the grand jury of Tatnall last week that it was unlawful for a traveling man, passing through a dry county, to accept an order for whiskey whether solicited or not. This law probably means that ordering liquor must stop, except by a party for his own use.

It seems to be a hard matter for some of the physicians to decide what the disease is over at Ducktown causing so much alarm. One among the oldest doctors in that vicinity states that he doesn't believe it is small pox but warns the people to be careful acknowledging that it is contagious.

H. L. Coffey, as will be seen elsewhere, has announced himself as a candidate for tax receiver. He comes out independently and asks the support of all. Mr. Coffey has been a citizen of Dahlonega for a number of years and filled several smaller official positions. He is well known to you all, being fully competent to fill the office if elected.

Atlanta and many other cities have raised several thousand dollars in money and provisions for the ten thousand homeless people of Jacksonville, Fla., caused by the late disastrous fire. Even the storm stricken city of Galveston, Texas, contributed more than a thousand dollars. The government is supplying them with a large number of tents.

Last Friday a defective wire in a small factory at Jacksonville, Fla., caused a $15,000,000 fire. Thirteen thousand buildings were destroyed and ten to fifteen thousand people made homeless in about ten hours. People went crazy and lost their lives through exhaustion and excitement. The wind was high and the roaring sea of fire leaped from house to house and at one time as many as half a dozen blocks were burning at the same time. It was fearful to behold.

Judge John S. Candler last Saturday rendered a decision in the mandamus proceedings brought by Allen D. Candler, governor of Georgia, against Robert E. Parks, state treasurer, to require him to temporarily use the funds now in his keeping arising from the sale of public property for the purpose of paying the warrants drawn up on the treasurer by the governor, the money to be used for paying the salaries of the teachers of the public schools of the state. The case will be carried to the Supreme Court.

Last Tuesday we saw a gentleman in Dahlonega who was here to see about a lot of land belonging to him which was advertised for sale as the property of another person, which he had purchased sixteen years ago and had every year's tax receipts since. Through a mistake it was sold as wild land ten years ago but he didn't know anything about it because he does not take his county paper, and would not have known anything about it this time had he not accidentally seen it in a borrowed Negro. The result is he had to lose a day out of his farm and walk ten miles to stop its sale.

The Druggist Ordinance.

Below is the ordinance passed by the city council of Dahlonega for the benefit of druggists at its last meeting. Read it and then we will comment a little:

Be it ordained and it is hereby ordained by the city of Dahlonega that from and after this date that it shall be unlawful for any person to open the door or doors of any store or other place where goods, wares or merchandise are kept for sale in the city of Dahlonega on the Sabbath day, for the purpose of admitting therein any person or persons for the purpose of purchasing any of such goods, wares or merchandise, except for the purchase of medicines or other articles of necessity in case of sickness or death. Provided that the drug stores may be opened on said day for the sale of medicines in case of emergency at any time. Provided further that drug stores may be open on said day except between the hours of 10:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. for the purpose of sale all medicines, cigars, tobacco and such temperance drinks as are the direct product of soda water fountains. Nothing herein contained shall authorize the sale of bottles, patent and proprietary tonics on the Sabbath day at any time. Provided further that any person who violates this ordinance shall be punished as prescribed in section 162 of the city code.

What do you think about it? If you don't wish to express yourself we can. It is certainly the silliest thing we ever heard of a wise body doing. Passing a law that keeps any one from selling temperance drinks, cigars and tobacco unless they run a drug store. There are only two drug stores in Dahlonega—The Matthews Drug Co. and Dr. Jones, the proprietor of the latter being a member of the city council. Mr. Matthews says that he does not expect to keep open on Sunday no way. Mrs. Mary Marlow of the restaurant keeps ginger pops but they are not the product of a soda fountain and she cannot sell them on Sunday. Will Ricketts is putting up a soda fountain and keeps tobacco but his is not a drug store and he is cut off. The result is those wishing a temperance drink, a cigar or a piece of tobacco are forced to go to the councilman's drug store. One person has just as much right to sell a piece of tobacco as another, and as far as temperance drinks are concerned they are not needed. Drug stores have no more right to keep open on Sunday than any other place of business except to open long enough to fill a prescription, and they all should be closed on Sunday. No man or business should be given any more privileges than another.

Primary Election.

James L. Healan was the choice of the democratic primary held in this county last Saturday as a suitable candidate to put before the people next Wednesday for the office of tax receiver to fill the vacancy caused by the death of C. W. Stargel. The number of votes polled was 409, returns being sent in from every district except three—Crumbly, Mill Creek and Porter Springs—J. L. Healan receiving 191, R. C. Meaders 186 and J. N. Austin 82. The following is the vote by districts:

A contest will take place at the college Saturday night to decide which one will represent this institution at the state oratorical contest.

Harry Quintrell, who has been residing here for some time, at work for the Consolidated Co., returned to his old home in Tennessee last Wednesday.

County treasurer J. B. Brown tells us that he got to see his first electric light bug the other night. It was first seen down in the field, a considerable distance from the house. Then it flew to the house and into the fire place and was killed and mutilated before he could catch and examine it. It was about an inch and a half long and its light showed off nicely while flying through the air.

Old lady Sexton, who was acquitted of stealing chickens at the last term of Lumpkin Superior Court, and resided up in Frog Town district, has left for parts unknown. A couple of citizens living close by have lost near a dozen fine chickens since she returned home, and the old woman was given ten days to leave in so it is said, and she left several days before the expiration of the time.

Two little twelve or fourteen year-old boys were caught last Monday playing cards back of the cemetery. This is very fine sport for boys to be engaged in on Monday morning so close to the city of the dead. They should be ashamed of such conduct and never allow themselves to engage in this kind of pastime any more. If they do it will eventually lead them to the gate of some stockade where they will be promptly received and dunned in a striped suit and then put to hard labor. Don't forget this note of warning.

DAHLONEGA, MAY 10, 1901.

An "ice cold fact"—Matthews Drug Co.

You will find nice eating Irish potatoes at John Moores.

John Lackey, formerly of this county, died a few days ago in Hall.

Mrs. L. Q. Meaders who has been seriously ill this week is improving.

Have you returned your city taxes? The books are advertised to close to day (Friday.)

Mrs. A. F. Lucas and son, of Washington City are visiting relatives at Hall's Villa.

Three light cases of scarlet fever up in Cane Creek district, two of them being at Anderson Heads and the other at Siss Heads.

G. D. Bruce has just received a new line of material for groups. Special rates to students. Remember this when wanting any good photographs.

A portion of Hightower district in this county, was visited by a light hail storm last Sunday. No damage as the stones were not larger than bird eggs.

A man by the name of Fox left for Colorado last Monday after securing a bottle of cologne at Dr. Jones' drug store on a credit. So if you meet up with any body looking foxy and smelling sweet that's him.

Don't think that we are mad because sometimes we mention things that do not suit you or may be against your interest or standing in society. We don't take our spite out of people that way—only giving the news.

Porter Springs has gotten to be a great resort for picnickers. Two have all ready been had there by the college societies within the past two weeks. Ten miles is a right good distance to go by private conveyances over a rough mountain road to picnics nevertheless the boys and girls enjoy it.

A few specialties at Meaders: A nice line of ladies and gents' umbrellas 40c to $2.25. Oxford shoes for ladies and children 63 and up. The biggest line of jewelry in town cheap and high. Ladies and mens hosiery cheap, quality being considered. Three bird cages, price unusually low. Chamois skins 18 inches square 30c.

Girls who start out in the direction of church telling their parents that they are going to attend services, don't even see the church every time. An occurrence of this kind took place this week. Parents who can't go themselves had better keep their girls at home at night unless they are in good company. We don't go much on night meeting because idle persons having ample time who do not attend church except at night are not going for the good of the cause.

Married men will have to be more careful hereafter if they send presents to. Not long since a certain prominent one in this county sent a pretty girl a five dollar bill in an envelope accompanied by appropriate remarks. The young lady didn't wish to accept gifts of this kind who at once sent it back to his wife, letter and all. And now that husband is frequently reminded of this matter by his companion who does not seem disposed to either forgive or forget.

Last Sunday was the time for the members of Wahoo church to take the sacrament but as there was some trouble on hand which had to be settled before participating in anything of this kind, this part of the program was postponed until some future time. Next Sunday is the time set apart for the taking of the sacrament at Mr. Gillard church, but as some of the deacons have been fighting we do not know whether a postponement will take place until they all get right or not.

Fresh lot of Fly Paper at Matthews Drug Co.

Fall cream cheese 15 cents at E. S. Copelands.

Nice large firm last years onions without any sprouts for sale at F. L. Reese's.

The Confederate graves here will be decorated next Friday. Program given in next issue.

The will of the late John Simmons was probated in solemn form last Monday in Judge Hall's court.

Services still continue being held at the Baptist church. Large attendance but only two accession to the church so far.

The railroad surveyors reached town Wednesday, coming up Tan Yard Branch. Two more surveys will be made—one up Cane Creek.

Mr. Jaquish was in Dahlonega this week again. This time he was accompanied by a Salt Lake gentleman who was looking at the mines.

The fellow who visited Jim Phillips' wood pile the other night will have to buy him another pair of specks. He should get a pair that will stick to his head better.

We learn as we go to press that John Chatten, who is charged with breaking into Wier post office some time ago, together with McDonald, who has already been convicted, is coming in to give up and make bond.

Call and examine our line of dry goods, notions, shoes and hats. We also carry a good line of staple and fancy groceries. We take pleasure in showing and pricing goods. Why? Because the quality is the best and the prices are reasonable. FRANK L. REESE.

The case of the city council vs. Steven Rice, charged with obstructing the side walk in front of his shop has been decided in favor of defendant. Mr. Rice was first fined $1 and cost by the Mayor. He appealed his case to the council on the same plea made to the mayor—that it was his property and not the town's and the body reversed the mayors decision.

G. H. McGuire returned from a trip to the Tar Heel state last Sunday. While gone he visited the house in which three persons were killed by lightning recently. It first struck a wire used to hang clothes on and followed it until reaching the smoke house and from there the bolt went from place to place till it hit the residence in which six persons were sleeping in three different beds in different corners of the house killing three of them, one in each bed. The others escaping with only slight injuries.

It would be better for Dahlonega if the newspaper men who come here to write up the place would not "stretch their blankets" too much. We thought surely when the Constitution man came last week that he would leave off imaginary things and give the facts about Dahlonega and her mines, and nothing more, but he made a failure and spread it on so deep that he gave Mr. Ashley four dreize boats displaz up $2,000 worth of gold each week when he only has one. Its true he has started another which proves that he is making money, but the amount is not given out to newspapers men.

Young men have learned that it won't do to go to preacher Phillips' house in this county while intoxicated. If they do they may expect trouble. We learn that Frank Weaver is now absent from the county on account of doing so. He had been paying his respects to Mr. Phillips daughter, which was agreeable when Weaver was sober, but when he paid her a visit not long since the old man showed him out of the door and was fixing to get his old musket when the young man departed. Weaver procured a warrant charging the dilyne with an assault with intent to murder, after which a warrant or two were secured by Mr. Phillips which caused Frank to have to leave out.

The health of Dahlonega is now very good.

Only about a month till the college commencement.

Klondyke is hot beside Matthews soda fountain.

Fodder brought $2.50 per hundred in Dahlonega last week.

Keep your eye on prosperity as fast as it arrives in Dahlonega.

Delicious cream and sherbet daily at the Matthews fountain.

The court house has been repaired and is now in good shape.

Mr. George, who intended to take his departure last week didn't get off until last Monday.

We are pleased to notice that Capt. Ingersoll has recovered sons to be able to make frequent visits to the Hand mine in which he is interested.

About 2,000 rails were destroyed last Friday on the farm of Mrs. John Weaver. The wind and dry time caused it to be a very difficult matter to get the fire under control.

Dahlonega will have no Chinese laundry it seems. The man that came up a few days ago for the purpose of establishing one here failed to make suitable arrangements.

Quite a difference in the weather now and three weeks ago. Then people were freezing and sneezing. Now they are hot and thawing, while the trees are all clothed in green.

While Burt Asbury was at work for the Crown Mountain Company the other day he was almost completely covered up by a cave, resulting in painful though not serious injuries to the young man.

The Pickens county authorities came last Saturday and returned the next day with Will Brookshire, who is wanted in that county on two warrants, one for carrying knucks and the other for being in a riot.

Postmaster Tate says that persons desiring to rent boxes will be expected to comply with the law by keeping their payments up in advance otherwise the mail of those neglecting to do so will be put in the general delivery.

Mechanics are now at work up at Porter Springs making repairs and improvements, getting things ready for the reception of visitors at this great favorite summer resort, where a large crowd are expected the coming summer.

A thing of beauty is joy forever as you all know. So go to Bruce gallery and have a lot of photographs taken in the best of style. Groups and all other work done upon short notice. His pictures and prices never fail to give satisfaction.

Although the weather has been very warm a man was seen plowing in the field down on Cane Creek last Saturday with his coat on. We have heard it said that what will keep out cold will keep out heat and it may be that this man was a believer of this kind.

The incorporators of the Gainesville and Dahlonega Electric Railway met in Dahlonega last Friday, organized, accepted the charter and opened books for subscriptions. A meeting will be held on the 16th inst., for the purpose of electing a president, board of directors, etc.

Dr. Groves, the dentist, has moved his office to the building known as the Hope house owned by Capt. Hall on the corner just a few steps above the Nugget office, where he will take delight in making your decayed teeth beautiful with gold and relieve all sufferers from toothache.

Little Ben Adams has been mischief doing again. This time he broke into Goley Townsend's house and carried away some of his wifes jewelry. City Marshal Harrison secured thetheatrics the next day and cooped Ben for awhile. If Ben don't mend his ways he will land in the chain gang as soon as he gets large enough to be of any service.

Quarterly meeting will be held at St. Paul church on the first Sunday in June.

The other morning Goley Townsend went to the stable to feed his mules and found one of them dead.

Don't neglect to renew your subscription to the Nugget when your fine expires if you wish to get every number.

A. F. McDonald's little boy who was shot by Marshal Grizzle's son a few days ago, is rapidly improving and will likely get well now if no change takes place.

Carter Thomson, after spending a few days at his old home in Toledo returned last Saturday, have the pleasure of meeting many of his old friends during his absence.

Jim Porter believes in taking his rest. The other day at noon while hands all stopped for dinner at Crown Mountain Jim dropped off to sleep and lost an eighth of a day. Caused by eating too many shellots.

The Nugget's circulation continues to grow until it has nearly twice as many subscribers of any other paper published in Dahlonega. Why? Because it publishes facts and the people can depend upon it as their guide and the directory of the business of both the city and county.

A ten foot blaze above one of the chimneys at Hall's Villa last Saturday caused some excitement among a number of our citizens for awhile attracting quite a crowd till all danger was over. Time and again we have warned our citizens and asked them to burn out their chimneys while the houses are wet but few do it.

Bowling, the young man who was given some money a few days ago to get certain parties some liquor, is still missing. It turns out that there were more persons deceived besides an officer, several church members were victims. Now that they have missed the liquor their voices will not be in tune much for May meeting singing.

When the manager of the Consolidated Co. sent across the Blue Ridge recently for the tools left over there where a tunnel had been started, nearly every thing had been stolen. It is said that only nine shovels out of 80 were found, and the belows and a large number of maddocks were gone. Everything had been locked up but it did no good.

The other night while merchant Joe McGee was fixing to close his store his big lamp containing three quarts of oil, fell to the floor, creating a big blaze looking very dangerous for a minute until Mr. McGee picked the lamp up and cast it out into the street, then he grabbed a bucket of water and had the blaze in the floor extinguished before it did any damage.

Oyer at Ashley's boat last Saturday Jim Sullins, while intoxicated troubled some of Wes Hulseys things where he was at work, resulting in a litch. After Halsey held Sullins down on the ground a couple of times without hurting him the young man refused to behave, causing Hulsey to use rougher means which ended the matter and the "exercises" closed for the day.

Last Monday at 10 o'clock quite a crowd assembled in the court house to hear the trial of Marshal Harrison before Esquire Allen on the charge of assault, warrant sworn out by W. B. Woodward, the junior editor of the Signal. The court after waiting for some time for the plaintiff and then sending for him, dismissed the case at his cost because he refused to appear against Mr. Harrison. The suit originated as follows: Saturday night the Marshal catching Mr. Woodward acting in a disorderly manner put him in the calaboose. The lockup being a very unpleasant place for printers (we having tried it some fifteen or twenty years ago) caused Woodward to get mad and endeavor to have revenge. At 5 o'clock Woodward entered a plea of guilty and Mayor Price fined him $3 and cost.

Mining Notes

The Findley dam gave way again last Sunday night and the mill has stopped and work suspended.

Mr. Mayo still continues his prospecting work down at Battle Branch, having opened up some good diggings, and will have something very interesting for the intended purchasers when they come for an inspection of the property.

R. W. Walker, of the Lumpkin, has been engaged for some time in getting out a test lot of ore from his mine. Assays made show it to be very valuable, but he wants to thoroughly convince himself and all those interested in a better manner by sending off five tons of ore to the smelter in Atlanta, which is being shipped now.

Since the Betz mine has been put into the hands of a native miner it has been turning out large yields. The Huntington mill has become old and expensive to keep up, reducing the profits much more than if they had a ten stamp mill. The Betz is the deepest worked mine in the county—shaft having already reached a depth of 250 feet, and vein still good.

The shaft on the Standard called the Tahleokha is near 150 feet deep. Some low grade has already been cut but the calculations are that they will have to go about 50 feet farther before the main lead of ore is struck. Mr. Pamel, a miner of Western experience has charge of the shaft. The number of hands now employed by the Standard is about 25 or 30.

Mining operations in White county are moving right along. The work on the Longstreet ditch is completed and the water is now on the mines. It is reported that a very rich vein has been struck at the St. George that will mill from 25 to 150 dwts. to the ton. In Dawson county some leases have been taken with a view of working the beds of certain streams with dredge boats.

At the Hand work still continues both in No. 1 shaft and in the long tunnel called the header. Good ore is being taken from the tunnel. No. 1 shaft is 150 feet deep, and the drift is about the same number of feet. Some very good ore was struck in the drift last week. The Knight vein has not been cut yet. About 30 or 35 hands are at work at the Hand. It is reported that a big revival of mining will take place down at the Hand in a few days.

The dredge boats of Birch Bros. and Ashley continue to give pleasing results. This plan of mining seems to be the easiest and most profitable, with the least expense of any other carried on in this section. When they work out one place it is no trouble to move to another, and after a rain can go over the same ground whenever it is desired with profitable results, not only getting the gold washed in from the hills, mountains and valleys but that which is lost from the various stamp mills.

It is reported that the Standard will not build their proposed 120 stamp mill, but have made arrangements and will run their ore across the creek and crush it at the Consolidated. If this is true it will be a wise move. The Standards property is splendid and can furnish its part of good ore to keep all the 120 stamps running on full time except during the dry season when the water gets so low that it is difficult to keep 40 stamps in operation. This can be remedied by increasing the water power.

Some twelve or sixteen men are engaged at the Barlow getting the air compressor and hoist in working order so as to begin operation on the celebrated Doghead vein which is likely second best to the Findley chute, and will be ready for operation in a few more days. This work is under the supervision of J. F. Bruce, one among the best native miners we have, who is perfectly familiar with the property, and if Mr. Bruce fails to make it pay its own ers can just pull up stakes and suspend work—that is if he is given his way. The work of building or remodeling the dam and mill will be pushed as rapidly as possible, which will not require a great deal of time before they will be ready to begin crushing the ore.

Jim Witt is still in search of another rich pocket at the Findley chute, the recent one discovered having been exhausted, though he has reduced his force of hands to more than half. It may be that he will not be successful before his lease expires but we hope he will for there is no man we had rather see with his pockets full of gold than Jim Witt, except ourselves. Had it not been for his perseverance and energy the last pocket containing several thousand dollars might have remained in the ground and never discovered. As it is he has made money if he fails to find another, besides giving employment to needy, deserving, native miners, who have and will spend every cent of it right here at home where it will help others and keep the money in circulation where it is needed most.

In reply to certain questions about the Crown Mountain mine we will proceed to answer as follows: There is no ore being taken out at either of the 35 or 40 veins already opened up on the property because as soon as the mill is ready and the water put on the mountain four different cuts will be made from which thousands of tons can be washed and trammed to the mill really faster than the two Huntingtons and the other 50 stamp mill can crush it. No ore of any consequence will be taken out of the Wallace shaft or incline till the mill is ready. It being so rich that a guard would have to be placed over it until the mill gets ready to start, and as economy is the watchword of the company they expect to let this rich ore remain where it is until they get ready for it. About 200 hands are now engaged at the power plant, pumping station, at the mill and at such other places as are necessary, pushing work forward as rapidly as possible, and it won't be long now till the water of the Chestate river finds its way on top of Crown Mountain which will put things to moving.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Dahlonega Consolidated Company at Toledo, O., last week 40 of its members were present, and over $4,500,000 of the stock was represented. The following board of directors was elected for the ensuing year, to-wit: J. W. Adams, Geo. H. Brynmann, F. G. Thomson, L. Seibert, W. M. Fisher, J. G. Rosenthal, Mark Hopkins, Frank Adams, E. C. Reor, J. M. Bloomer, F. W. Bainbridge, J. P. Coates, Daniel C. Shaw, Chas. McCulloch, and N. A. Hudden. "The Toledo News in referring to the meeting says: "The report of the progress at the mines for the past year was very satisfactory, and the company is in excellent financial condition." If the past work has been satisfactory we feel confident that it will be no trouble to please them in the future, for the "wild oats have all been sown" and now they have nothing to do but to get down to profitable work if it is their desire. The company own some of the richest mines here and we wish them success in every judicial and legitimate undertaking. They have spent a large amount of money here in preparing for work and we want it to be beneficial to them.

The Nugget office had a pleasant call last Monday from Rev. R. M. Hughes, one of the Methodist ministers who is in charge of several churches in this county. It is always a pleasure for us to have our sanctum visited by good people like preachers.

Gen. Warner is now a citizen of Dahlonega, having recently moved into the Griggs house within plain view of Crown Mountain mine of which he is president, enabling him to reach the works in a few minutes walk. We extend to the General and his family the right hand of fellowship in the golden city of the mountains.

A dispatch to a London newspaper from Rome says the pope has ordered that about 150,000 old swords, halberds, spears, battle-axes in the Vatican armory be melted and the iron sold. A furnace for the purpose has been erected in the Vatican gardens. The weapons are useless except a souvenir, and cost a great deal to keep them polished. — N. Y. Journal.

"It is with a good deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Druggist A. W. Sawtelle, of Hartford, Conn. "A lady customer, seeing the remedy exposed for sale on my show case, said to me: 'I really believed that medicine saved my life the past summer while at the shore,' and she became so enthusiastic over its merits that I at once made up my mind to recommend it in the future. Recently a gentleman came into my store so overcome with colic pains that he sank at once to the floor. I gave him a dose of this remedy, which helped him. I expected the dose and in fifteen minutes he left my store smilingly informing me that he felt as well as ever." Sold by The Matthew's Drug Co.

Take care of the forests! Out of a single tree in Dyer county Tennessee, it is reported, "Ed Johnson got four cords of firewood, three gallons of honey and five raccoons." It is an old saw that one cannot get all the coons up one tree but this comes about as near it as any report that has come in. — Columbus Sun.

Miss Florence Newman, who has been a great sufferer from muscular rheumatism, says Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only remedy that affords her relief. Miss Newman is a much respected resident of the village of Gray, N. Y., and makes this statement for the benefit of others similarly afflicted. This liniment is for sale by The Matthew's Drug Co.

THE CROWN MOUNTAIN GOLD Mining & Milling Co.

The Crown Mountain properties are situated in the very heart of the Georgia gold belt and is in the radiating center of all the leading gold veins of the Dahlonega district. They embrace what is believed to be the mother lode of the Appalachian Range.

The extensive and rich ore bodies in sight upon these properties assure long continued mining operations and the indisputable guarantee of the permanent and increasing value of the stock of "The Crown Mountain Co."

The projectors of this company were the first to revive the mining interest in this district in 1896. After three years of careful and exhaustive examination of all the mines of the district of reputation as gold producers, and they had the choice of all, they selected the Crown Mountain combination as the ideal gold mine of the district which would yield or produce the most gold with the least expense. This opinion is shown by all the mining engineers, mining experts, miners and citizens of any standing in the district who are familiar with the properties. As an evidence of this we here state that more of the citizens of the town of Dahlonega and vicinity have taken stock in this company than have in all the other companies combined that have organized in this district.

The company is to be managed by practical business men—who have given much of their time to mining and mining operations, and always with unvarying success.

The present directory is for the most part composed of men who have had much experience in the mining enterprises, and under its efficient and economical management, and by reason of a visible gold supply that is practically inexhaustible, an investment in the stock of this company is undoubtedly safe.

The capitalization of the company is not commensurate with the visible productiveness of the properties and is meagre compared with the capitalization of other justly celebrated mines in the district, but the management believe it will be able to make the stock worth above par.

We invite all prospective investors to make a personal inspection of the mines. We also invite them to examine all the other mines in the district—compare the quality and quantity of the ore and the facilities for economically treating the same. We have no fears of where the choice will fall.

Until further notice of advance in prices, the stock of this company will be sold at the minimum rate of 50.00 per share. For further information apply to J. F. or J. H. Moore, Dahlonega, Ga. or Donovin & McCabe, 10 & 12 West Spring Street, Columbus, Ohio, or Gen. Warner, Marietta, Ohio.

A Witchita, Kas., dispatch to the Chicago Inter Ocean asserts that Mrs. Carrie Nutton has "sunk and down" $15,000 over and above her expenses in her anti saloon crusade.

Program For Decoration Day May 17.

Citizens and school children will assemble on square at 9 a. m.

Marshal of the day Capt. W. H. McAfee.

Line of march as follows: Veterans.

School children and citizens. The procession will disperse at center of cemetery for the purpose of decorating the graves of the Confederate dead. After reassembling the following program will be carried out:

Opening prayer by Rev. Wallace Rogers.

Address Col. W. P. Price.

Song—America led by the children.

Address Capt. F. M. Williams.

Song.

Benediction by Rev. F. O'Kelley.

Mr. Charlie McAfee will act as drummer for this occasion.

Every one cordially invited to bring flowers and take part in the exercises.

Nearly every week you will find the usual beggars in town asking for aid. We certainly sympathize with all such persons, but these calls have become too frequent to be pleasant for any one. There is a good, comfortable place in this county prepared by its tax payers where all destitute people unable to work can be cared for and they ought to go to it.

We are no judge of religion but take it for granted that some of the colored population of Dahlonega are improving. We are told that one visits the shade of a pine tree every day and bows in humble prayer, across the ridge near the Consolidated hotel. Used to when this negro was seen in the woods he was generally found with a jug of liquor for sale. We are glad to note he change and hope Dr. Parkhurst will take note of it.

The big May meetings in the county are attracting great crowds of people as usual, being visited at some places by a goodly number from the city.

THE CONSOLIDATED

Member and His Man Friday.

The Nugget's truthful reports about the management of the Consolidated Co's mines here, for the benefit of the stockholders in the north, according to promise seem to hurt some of the managers who have been in charge. The truth is trying to be evaded in every conceivable way and facts concealed from not only the public but from some of those directly interested. Even men at work for the company were threatened to be discharged because they were suspected of disclosing certain facts heretofore given, having little enough knowledge of mining to think that they could turn the water off of a 120 stamp mill and us nothing if when the sound of the stamps ceased, saying nothing of the number of letters received from parties interested about being deceived. We told them the gold was here. They have invested their money for the necessary machinery and they want to know why they are receiving no gold. We have said and proved that it is on account of the waste of money and bad management generally. And we might have disclosed some other important things to the stockholders which can be done later on if necessary. What we have already said has caused a kick among some of the managers. They can't show that we have made any misstatements, but endeavor to cover up the truth by throwing mud at us. This having no effect, one of them last week turned on a whole lot of filth, using the Signal as his sewer, while its baby editor, Billie, sat at the manhole, occasionally dropping in a bottle of lemon extract, stirring and guiding as directed. This manner of doing misguides no sensible man in the north. The Nugget may look to some of them as being "black on the back and blue on the belly," as they assert, but thank God it can be turned over without the assistance of a city marshal, and as far as subscribers are concerned the Nugget has more subscribers in the North or anywhere else than the Signal has now or ever did have. This we can prove. We don't have to keep a standing local in the Nugget directed especially to our subscribers in the north, like the Signal, requesting them to pay up else their "names will be dropped." If the Signal is so reliable and such a favorite among these men (managers excepted) why is it they have to receive special attention in this way?

The author of the Signals article refers to us as a "little country editor with a 24 vocabulary." We may furnish a lot of words in alphabetical order, but the Nugget gets there all the same. It is always full of something that is new, not containing a lot of dead medical ads and old plate matter two or three years old that have been used three or four times. The managers of the Consolidated may have "made more money in a minute than the editor of the Nugget has in a lifetime," as asserted by the writer. They have not made any for the rest of the stockholders, otherwise there would not be a big 120 stamp mill idle down at the Hand now and a several thousand dollar hotel in Dahlonega inhabited by nothing but rats, belonging to the company.

Now a few words in reply to the insinuation that we receive pay for mining articles. We never received a cent for a mining article in the Nugget in our lives. Neither did we ever charge either an individual or company anything, being always glad to give reliable information just as a matter of news like any other thing of interest, and the man or men who even insinuate that we do know that they are liars. When a new enterprise begins we keep our readers posted as to its progress, just as we did when the Consolidated commenced. For months we gave a view of some part of the works every week. We didn't ask or receive a cent. This we can prove by Mr. Thomson, the secretary and treasurer of the company. Only a short time ago Mr. Thomson sent for us after we had our type nearly up and said that he had rather pay us a dollar a line than to miss getting in a certain article. We distributed enough type to publish it stating to him that it was a matter of news and facts and would charge him nothing. It made 137 lines and we could have received $137.00 for it had we accepted. This proves to you that we have nothing against the Consolidated Co.

The majority of the stockholders of the Consolidated Co. are our friends who appreciate the truth as will be observed from the following letter received by Fridays mail, written by a large stockholder residing in Michigan who once talked of helping to build a railroad to Dahlonega:

PONTIAC, MICH., MAY 8, 1901.

W. B. TOWNSEND, DAHLONEGA, GA.

DEAR SIR:—Enclosed find $1 for the Nugget another year, for I don't want to be without it, for it does me some good to hear my sentiments expressed with regard to the management of the Consolidated now and then.

Please send the Nugget to the same address and oblige.

Yours respectfully,

J. W. S.

Pontiac, Mich.

Proposing to Widows.

The admonition of Samuel Weller to "beware of the widows" seems to have escaped the attention of a certain New York undertaker. One would think that if any person were especially fitted by the nature of his calling to successfully resist the beguilements of widows it is the undertaker who comes in contact with them in the hour of bereavement and whose post-mortem relations with them are often prolonged until the estate is settled.

This particular New York undertaker, however, did not wait until the funeral cortege had disbanded. After burying her husband the widow rode in the same carriage homeward with the undertaker who had officiated at the funeral. The undertaker, learning that the widow had $300 in the bank and, needing it in his business, proposed marriage there and then. He assured her that she was good looking and altogether too young to be left desolate and alone in the world. With such ardent persistence did he press the suit that he won her hand and the $300.—Dalton Citizen.

Heart Beats Move a Bullet.

A bullet in a living pulsating heart rising and thobing with each throb of the engine of life a leaden defiance of the laws and traditions of surgery, was seen when W. C. Fuchs, in his laboratory in the Schiller building, turned the Röntgen rays upon the chest of C. B. Nelson of Cadillac, Mich.

Mr. Nelson has carried this unique souvenir of a murderous attack for more than four years. He expects to carry it many years, for at the age of 35 he is strong as an ox and full of health and vigor. He endures life without the slightest inconvenience from the bullet in his heart, and visited the specialist in X-rays merely to learn whether the bullet had shifted its position. Nelson's case is remarkable in the annals of surgery. The shooting was as mysterious as the result is wonderful.

One evening in the summer of 1896 Nelson and Miss Marguerite Staples were sitting on the banks of a lagoon in Washington Park. Suddenly a negro thrust his head from a clump of bushes and fired a revolver at Mr. Nelson. Nelson fell to the ground, and the police came in answer to Miss Staples' screams. The negro, who was presumably insane, was never captured.

The surgeons at the Chicago hospital found the bullet in the pericardium, where it had become imbedded in the muscles. They told Nelson he had one chance in a thousand to live, and that an operation would mean a quicker death. Nelson took the chance. He said he would live and carry the bullet with him. To the wonder of the medical world his prophecy proved true. He elung to the thread of life a week. Then his grasp grew stronger, and after a month he was able to leave the hospital in excellent physical condition. He has been in good health ever since.

The examination showed that the position of the bullet has not changed in the slightest degree.—Denver Republican.

A gentleman from Atlanta whose name we withhold for the present for pertinent reasons called to see the Citizen recently and while here informed us that the Apalachian Gold Mining Company owned a lot of mineral land not many miles from Dalton and as soon as the Dalton and Alaculsy Railroad was completed would begin mining operations and would put up a $90,000 Chlorination plant and stamp mill in Dalton.—Dalton Citizen.

The Danville Register tells a story of a Page county, Virginia, farmer who lost his knife while barreling potatoes, having sold his crop to a New York firm. Next seed time he thought he ought to get something extra, so he ordered his seed potatoes from a Michigan firm. When he opened the barrel he found his long lost knife, and also found that he had paid a high price for potatoes which he himself had sold some three months earlier.—Ex.

The following is the first "fish story" of the season, appears in the Floresville Chronicle, and "will do till more are cooked." A gentleman near Durango owns a bird dog which is especially good at fetching things out of the water. In order to show a friend what the dog could do, he threw a fifty cent piece into the water and told the dog to fetch it. The dog dived and brought back a two pound catfish and 35 cents in change.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

should always be kept in the house for the following reasons:

FIRST—Because, if any member of the family has a hard cold, it will cure it.

SECOND—Because, if the children are delicate and sickly, it will make them strong and well.

THIRD—Because, if the father or mother is losing flesh and becoming thin and emaciated, it will build them up and give them flesh and strength.

FOURTH—Because it is the standard remedy in all throat and lung affections.

No household should be without it. It can be taken in summer as well as in winter.

Price, 50c and $1.00, all druggists.

Young Women

The entry into womanhood is a critical time for a girl. Little menstrual disorders start at that time soon grow into fatal complications. That female troubles are killing graveyards. Wine of Cardui establishes a painless and natural menstrual flow. When once this important function is started right, a healthy life will usually follow. Many women, young and old, owe their lives to Wine of Cardui. There is nothing like it to give women freedom from pain and to fit young women for every duty of life. $1.00 bottles at druggists.

Miss Della M. Strayer, Tully, Kan. "I have suffered untold pain at menstrual periods for a long time, was nervous, had no appetite, and lost interest in everything, in fact was miserable. I have taken four bottles of Wine of Cardui, with Theodore's Black-Draught, when needed, and today I am entirely cured. I cannot express the thanks I feel for what you have done for me."

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, MAY, 17 1901.
Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.
as Second Class Matter.

Cleveland is soon to have telephone connection with Gainesville.

The examination of school teachers will take place throughout Georgia on the first day of June.

A Dawson county farmer seems to be determined to starve out the bugs, by raising vineless potatoes.

The negroes all quit work at Jacksonville, Fla., as soon as free rations were sent to relieve the fire sufferers.

A negro was tied to a tree and killed near Valdosta the other night for shooting at a white man named Foreaker.

A three foot black snake visited a lady's table during dinner hour in Gainesville the other day. The intruder soon met its death.

The body of Samuel Bulton, a millionaire brewer, was found in a vat of boiling beer at Troy, New York, the other day. His body was literally cooked.

Marshal J. H. Stuart, of Blue Ridge, Ga., and his deputy, Wm. Witt, have been bound over to the Superior Court in a bond each of $100 for breaking down the door of Mrs. Davis of that place.

Jim Dispain, near whose house an illicit distillery was found by the officials a short time ago in Hightower district, was brought in by Marshal Grizzle last Saturday and carried before Com. Barker who bound him over.

The Georgia Weekly Press Association will meet in Athens, July 16th and 17th, and will go on an excursion to Buffalo, N. Y., to the Pan-America Exposition, and to Niagara Falls. This will be a grand trip, and a jolly crowd.

Both regulars and volunteers returning from the Philippine Islands are cocked and primed for pensions. They are paid $2.50 for a gunshot wound and $2.00 for a straight disability, and from that the price ranges down to a dollar.

Shubb Wall, the murderer of Christopher O'Byrne, has been convicted and sentenced for life from Rabun county. ex-Detective Mahaffey, G. W. Crussell and E. W. E. Williams, who went up from Atlanta and testified in the case were jailed charged with perjury.

A dispatch from Austin states that ex-Governor Hoag is promoting with New York capitalists a company which proposes to operate pipe lines from the Beaumont oil field 200 miles to the New Birmingham iron region of Texas, and for the development of the iron furnaces of the latter region.

For the lack of means by the school teachers of Georgia on account of the delay in receiving their pay this year many of them have written to the State School Commissioner asking to be excused from attending the teachers institute. The commissioner will make an effort to have their request complied with.

Solicitor General Charters left for Gainesville last Tuesday, where he goes to preside in a case in which Judge Estes is disqualified. Col. Charters is one of the brightest young lawyers in Georgia, and but very few much older ones have a better knowledge of law than he does, and we would be glad to see him elected Judge of this circuit. No better man in it could be selected.

In California people seem more anxious to see President McKinley than in any other state. At one place he had to make his way out of a window and take a back way to his train to prevent a panic, while at another the chief of police while watching the coming of the presidents train was told that his house was in flames. "Let her go," said the chief. "I want to see the president." He saw him and lost his house.

A few days ago as cadet Sultz was returning to Dahlonega on his bicycle he discovered a day book lying in the road, which he picked up and found that it contained $33.00. He moved on and soon overtook a Mr. Palmour, whose rear pants pocket was noticed hanging out. His attention was called to it when Mr. Palmour put his hand back and discovered his loss for the first time. After talking to him a short while Mr. Sultz handed him his book and money. The owner was very proud and thankful and asked the finder what it was worth, "nothing," was the reply. "I don't charge anything for being honest."

When the Consolidated Co. first opened Hall's Villa no transient boarders were taken—only members of the company. Now it is open to all and has become quite a favorite hotel, being in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard who take great pains in accommodating guests in first class style. Besides this we understand that vice-president Breynan said that he desires all bosses in the employ of the company to board at their hotel and to trade at the company's store, and they do this. Some fear of losing a job we suppose. This may be one reason why no native superintendents are not employed by the Consolidated Co.

For the last three weeks we have made mention of little Ben Adams stealing something. Last week he stole a shot gun which he carried out into the country and proposed to sell it to Will Wehnt for a dollar. Wehnt suspecting it being stolen property on account of its low price told the boy that he would take it but could not pay for it till he came to town. They came in and it was not long before it was found to be the property of Anderson & Jones, who had Ben arrested and he is now in jail in default of a bond for his appearance at Lumpkin Superior Court. He is quite a young prisoner but no one seems to have any influence over him.

There were more colored people in Dahlonega last Sunday than we have seen here at one time for quite awhile. They came in from White, Hall and all parts of the country to see the Colored Odd Fellows march and witness the program of this fraternity carried out in the court house, which occurs annually. The singing was splendid, causing many white people to listen with much interest. Mayor W. P. Price was present who made a few remarks, during which time he spoke in complimentary terms of the colored peoples good conduct in this section. After which Rev. Samuel Goudlock delivered an appropriate sermon which received special attention of all present.

On Monday last our sanctum was visited by G. W. Fisher, of Chicago, but a native of Kentucky, accompanied by J. W. Birch, of New Bridge, Ga. Mr. Fisher was in Dahlonega 50 years ago who says now that he can't tell which way he came in or where he went out, such a change having been made in the past half century. The object of the gentlemen's visit this time is to introduce the Fisher Gold Amalgamator, which was patented Jan. 8th, 1901, the invention having been receiving his study and attention for 55 years. Mr. Fisher claims that it is the best gold saver yet invented, the Hix process not excepted, in fact he says that he can get gold with his machine from the tailings of the Hix Process. The Amalgamator is built in four standard sizes, handling from five to two hundred and fifty tons of ore daily—the smallest weighing only 100 pounds. The machine does not crush ore. It is placed below a mill and extracts the gold from the tailings. He had with him a sample of gold extracted from black sand down at Birch Bro. boat, where a conservative estimate shows that the owner loses 2 per cent of gold carried off in the black sand. The Amalgamator has been tested by different miners in various sections which gave good results as shown by certificates in the possession of Mr. Fisher.

The Election.

The result of Wednesdays election for tax receiver between J. L. Heahin, democrat, and H. L. Coffey, republican, resulted as follows:

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, MAY 17, 1901.

It is still very dry, and cool of mornings.

Tanglefoot Fly Paper at Matthews Drug Co.

Postmaster Tate paid Atlanta a business trip this week.

Delicious cream and sherbet daily at the Matthews fountain.

The blanks for new claims of truant soldiers have been received by ordinary Huff.

The plans and specifications for the repairs on the Methodist church can be seen at Gurley's store. Bids for same will be received until June 1st.

Raffling seems to be the order of the day now. Not only watches, clocks, horses but a fifteen year old boy now has a pistol he is proposing to raffie off.

First of the week Marshal Harbison had no one to try his defendants. Mayor Price was gone to Atlanta and mayor pro tem Lilly visited Ellijay.

Judge Huff has had all the distress of Lumpkin county for many years back nicely bound. This was a proper move and should have been done long ago.

While having portrait, groups or landscape work done, call and see the work of Photographer Davidson. All work reasonable in price, and guaranteed to average equal to any in town.

Some one stole Rev. J. E. Blackburns watch out of his house on Wednesday last week, which was hanging on a nail. It was a silver plated watch, with gold hands, Cesar's make.

Mr. Ashley and Van Vleet visited Cleveland, Ga., a few days ago to see Mr. Henderson with a view of putting in a dredge boat on some of his property through which a stream flows supposed to contain much gold.

A couple of gentlemen, supposed to be sent here for an inspection of the Consolidated Company's affairs arrived Tuesday afternoon, and after spending about five hours looking at the Findley and Hand mining properties departed without saying but little to any one.

N. W. Grant, of Habersham county, will represent the N. G. A. College in the state oratorical contest this year, having won by a close shave over Smith Harris, of Hall county, last Saturday night, making less than two points. Both did well and were listened to with much interest by every one present.

General Inspector Obar came up last Tuesday and inspected the cadets of the N. G. A. College. The boys all drilled splendid and showed off well, proving that Prof. Colvin has not neglected his duties in the least. Too much credit cannot be given Prof. Colvin, for he takes special interest in the military department of the college.

Owing to some defect in the bill recently returned by the U. S. grand jury in Atlanta against Howard Walker for breaking open other persons letter, merchant J. E. McGee and the other witnesses concerned in the case had to visit Atlanta last Monday to go before the grand jury again so that a new one could be obtained.

The target practice of the colored cadets endangers the lives of Henry Roberts whole family, as well as passers by. Henry has made several appeals for it to be stopped or changed but being a poor man it has no effect. At various times the bullets have struck near his premises. Wednesday a ball hit close to Mammel Howell who was plowing in Mr. Roberts field. The negro picked up the bullet and came to town looking as wild as a buck. This loss of time and ammunition, saying nothing of the danger, is useless. More book practice is needed worse than gun practice.

An "ice cold fact"—Matthews fount.

One of Anderson Heads little children died in this county last week.

Another lot of new stationery just received at the Nugget office. Come to see us.

Postmaster Tate keeps the office open late which is a great convenience to the laboring class.

Ferdinand McDonald little boy, who was recently shot in the point of the shoulder, is up and about and will soon be well.

R. J. Swann, the Superior Court stenographer of this circuit left Tuesday for his old home at Reeve's Station in Gordon county, Ga.

Some people get mad when their paper is stopped. If there are any of this kind taking the Nugget now who do not want to get mad they had better renew when their times expire.

John Chatten, charged with breaking into Wier postoffice and John Bennett's store, came in last week and made two bonds, one to sheriff Davis for $300 and the other to the U. S. officials for $1,000.

Dallas Lanco was in the city a few days ago making an effort to get a postoffice established at his store some two miles from Jay saw mill. An office is badly needed in that settlement and we hope and believe he will get it.

In our article last week we said that there were only two drug stores in Dahlonega. We meant to say that there are only two selling temperance drinks. The Dahlonega Drug Co. is the third one but never keeps open on Sunday.

It is said that Dahlonega has an excellent young gambler who frequently cleans up the boys of all the money they have. The officials have their eyes on them and some of these times they will be run into and made to feel sad.

Mr. John Davidson, one of the editors of the Cleveland Courier, paid us a very pleasant visit this week. Mr. Davidson will remain until after commencement so as to help the members of the band out, he being an excellent musician.

Cadet Peterson was fined one and cost the other day for kicking the little Daniels boy who had used some pretty strong language to the young man. The mayor remitted his cost and the kick only set him back three dollars. His father carried him home.

Tuesday Marshal Harbison made a case against Charlie Crisson, a student, for shooting blank cartridges on the street after the military inspection. That night at about 11 o'clock his school mates scattered about and fired more times than have been shot at one battle during the Philippine war.

Next Sunday is the regular meeting day at Yahoola church some six or seven miles above Dahlonega. There are several cases of scarlet fever not far from that locality and the best thing its members could do is to postpone the meeting until another time for fear of giving the disease a new start. You can all serve the Lord just as well at home this time, can't you? Wouldn't it be better than to run the risk of losing some of your children?

The series of meetings at the Baptist church after lasting near two weeks, closed on Thursday last week, during which time only six persons joined the church. The house was crowded nearly every night, many would sit and sing unconcerned with their mind on something else; probably wondering how they would make a dollar out of some one or where they would go to have some fun the next day. The sermons were good and the ministers did every thing they could to cause people to do better but their appeals had no effect. Really a great number of them would not have been there had they not wanted to see who went up as a mourner, or desired to see some one or be present so some one could see them.

Klondyke is hot beside Matthews soda fountain.

Sheriff Jackson of White county was in the city Wednesday.

Prof. Cain, principal of Dawsonville High School has been in Dahlonega this week shaking hands with his many friends here.

The Sunday School at Bethlehem church in Cane Creek district has been suspended, we understand on account of the scarlet fever.

The members of Mt. Gililand church met last Saturday and elected Rev. J. J. Shed pastor, to fill the place of Rev. C. W. Stargel, deceased.

A strawberry supper will be given at the court house on the night of the 25th inst, by the Ladies Home Mission Society. If you are fond of strawberries and ice cream this is the place to go.

The other day while Mrs. Fate Rider, living over on the Chestate river, was returning to her residence she stumbled and fell against the smoke house breaking one of arms above the wrist.

The twelve-year-old son of W. P. Anderson, formerly of Dahlonega, died at the cotton factory near Gainesville last Tuesday from the effects of injuries received a few days previous by a wagon running over him.

One day last week Willie Tate, a son of Mrs. John Tate, residing near Porter Springs, had one of his hands badly injured by the bursting of a gun while shooting a rabbit, at the same time cutting an ugly place in his lip.

On Friday last Mrs. S. E. Smith, sister of Mrs. R. C. Thomson, and Mrs. Grove came in from Findlay, Ohio, accompanied by Mrs. Brake, of the same city, who will probably remain in Dahlonega some two or three weeks.

Down at the Betz mine last Saturday a rock fell on Nelson Fletcher, back, while at work, painfully but not seriously injuring him. Dr. Wheeler was sent for who was soon at the mine giving Mr. Fletcher the proper attention.

Your attention is directed to the ad. of Fitts & Brooksher, to be found in this issue. They have thousands of varieties of apple trees now ready for the market. L. R. Bryson and S. L. Barrett, of Dawsonville, are acting as agents for this nursery company.

The surveyors on the Dahlonega and Gainesville electric railway, after examining the Cane Creek route decided to abandon it and use the one by the Findley mine and enter the city up tan yard branch. There report will soon be ready for the promoters and then we can tell you more about it.

The Nugget doesn't care a straw what articles displease you. If you get mad we receive the benefit of your prayers whether they are worth anything or not. Nevertheless we would take a copper in preference to some of them, for a prayer that does not reach higher than a church ceiling is not worth much to a country editor.

This office is indebted to J. W. Birch for a dozen different copies of Gold, a weekly paper published at Cripple Creek, Colo., which tells all about the mines of that section. The production of gold at Cripple Creek for ten years up to the end of April has been $100,000,000, an average of $10,000,000 a year.

A few days ago while Wilks Loggins was eating fish, he got a bone fastened in his throat. After making several unsuccessful efforts to get it out he got a mirror and a bang curler and it was not long until he had the bone twisted out giving him great relief. Wilks says that he never saw any use for a bang curler before.

Last Saturday John Walden, who was at work down at Crown Mountain got sick and was carried home. Upon reaching his destination he was told that his cow had lost her life by falling into a ditch, her calf had perished and his ox had died from poison. This is a heap of trouble to come on a poor man all at once.

The several weeks dry weather has prevented much of the corn coming up, causing farmers to have to replant more than usual.

Frank Meaders raffled off a horse last Saturday, Clyde Loveless receiving the lucky number, which was 28, who was given a hundred dollar bill in preference to the horse.

A fire broke out on the college grounds last Friday where some clearing was being done, which swept through the pine thicket destroying some twelve or fourteen panels of the college fence and some of Henry Roberts before it could be stopped.

The trunk of cadet Johnston, who left college some time ago, was sold by the constable last Friday, the proceeds of which went for the payment of his board bill. The members of the society to which Johnston belonged, bid off the trunk, paid the money and sent it to him.

Dahlonega city council in giving druggists who own soda fountains the right to sell cigars tobacco and temperance drinks on Sunday, exercise higher powers than the Georgia legislature. Section 422 of the code of 1895 reads as follows: "Any person who shall pursue his business, or the work of his ordinary calling on the Lord's day, works of necessity or charity excepted, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor."

The streets which receive the most attention in Dahlonega are those on which conmenline reside. A person to receive any benefits scarcely must live on one of these streets or on the public square. It is very unpleasant for citizens who are located in other parts of the town to have to work their own streets if anything is done, and at the same time have to pay taxes to help to keep up the few choice ones.

Even our friends in Dawson county are interested in the Nugget. We received two subscriptions from there last Saturday and one of them, J. J. Shed, wrote us as follows: "Mr. W. B. Townsend, Dahlonega, Ga., enclosed you will find $1.50 for one years subscription to the best paper in North Georgia. Also the Atlanta Journal." This is quite a compliment and shows how well all those who have seen the Nugget appreciate it.

Old Ucleo Peter Garret who has been at work on the Consolidated company's property ever since it was to belong to Col. Hand and has put in more time in the mines than any other hand that ever worked there, has changed and gone to work for the Crown Mountain Co. There is no better miner in this country than Ucleo Peter. He can make more correct tests with his pick and shovel than many of the assayers do with all their book knowledge and fixtures.

Sheriff Davis took several bonds last week for persons who the last grand jury said must come to court and show why they should not suffer the penalty of the law, among them being John Anderson, a son of Larkin Anderson and Frank Little, charged with misdemeanor, and last but not least nor the youngest Ucleo Dolph Sullins, a state pensioner, 60 years of age who is charged with fornication and adultery. It is bad that an old man like this can't have a female cook without being troubled.

We witnessed a civil rights ride the other day. It consisted of a negro and a white lad seated together in a buggy with a gallon jug and several bottles filled with liquor. Just as they turned the corner of Clarksville street one of the bottles struck the ground. This caused the wheels of the buggy to cease moving long enough for it to be picked up, and they drove away with the white fellow so drunk that he had to rest his head in the negroes bosom. Oh what a delightful sight it presented. Both were drunk but the lad was so full that he didn't know but what he was resting his weary head in Abrahams bosom.

Mining Notes

The Reynolds mill in White county, was robbed of a large amount of gold a few nights ago and the plates badly damaged.

Mr. Packard has some hands on Turkey Hill cleaning out and driving down on one of his veins. It is very rich. Being worth from one to seven pennyweights to the pan.

The discoveries on the Battle Branch property by Mr. Mayne since commencing his development work on the same show up well, satisfying those interested that it is a good gold mine.

The Betz still continues good. A better quality of ore was struck in the 250 shaft last week, proving to the doubting ones that there is plenty of gold in Lumpkin deep beneath her soil, which pays when properly worked like the Betz mine, operated under the supervision and by practicable native miners.

On the Standard property Tom Ray has a force of hands cleaning out and timbering up the old Singleton tunnel from which so much gold was taken years ago. The ore which was dropped on the way is found to be very rich and when the water is pumped out something very good is expected to be seen.

The belt to the air compressor at the Hand broke twice last week causing a delay until one could be procured from the Columbia mill. A new large vein has been struck in the 900 foot tunnel, at the Hand, size and width not known yet. In No. 1 shaft they find that while cutting the drift the vein is just above them, having driven under it. However, the ore will be easy to handle.

One of the Huntington mills is now in position at Crown Mountain while all other work is moving right ahead. Dozens of wagons are busy hauling the iron pipes from Gainesville which will be ready to receive the water and run on the mountain by about the first of June. Last week up near the power plant a slide of about a hundred feet occurred on the canal. This will be flumed and put in shape at once.

At the Findley after a delay of about a week on account of a break in the dam Witt and Campbell are running five stamps now saving money on an old fashion mill. Work is still progressing at the Findley chute in search of another rich pocket of gold by Mr. Witt. Several pennyweights of the yellow metal are occasionally blasted out which shows that he must be on a very warm track.

The Calhoun property continues to produce large quantities of the precious metal. Bob Poston has been taking out fifty pennyweights to the pan and a bright prospect of its continuation. Mr. Poston has made about 1,500 pennyweights in the past 12 months, working all alone. Wharton Anderson is making a clean up showing that the placer diggings are still very rich. Will Lemly and another hand cleaned up nearly one hundred and fifty pennyweights, in which were a lot of nice nuggets.

The board of directors of the Dahlonega Consolidated Co. have elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, J. W. Adams, Chattanooga, Tenn.; vice president, G. H. Breyman, Toledo, treasurer, F. W. Bainbridge, Toledo; secretary, R. C. Thomson, Dahlonega; executive committee, J. W. Adams, G. H. Breyman, Mark Hopkins, E. C. Recor and J. M. Bloomer; finance committee, G. H. Breyman, J. P. Coates and W. M. Fisher.

A number of our leading citizens received a letter from Mr. Adams, president of the Consolidated Co., asking for an expression in reference to the company's mines here and the benefits the country derived by the great outlay of money by the Consolidated so as to read it at a meeting of this company to be held at Ft. Wayne, Ind. this week, trying to make them believe that their big vacant hotel would have been filled, the city furnished with a splendid electric light system, etc., had it not been for the recent editorials in the Nugget in reference to its management. Of course the various replies were that the money spent by the company had been of much benefit to the whole country and it was the wish of everybody here that they would succeed. This we have said time and again. We still say it, and it would be a poor fool that wouldn't. But now here is the point. We are not one of those kind who want money for nothing. We want the investors to make something in return. Their plant has been in working order here since last summer and they have made but little considering the size of the plant. Gradually dragging along until the mill has stopped and the laborers reduced from hundreds to about thirty. Why? This can be explained in two words—bad management. The number of stockholders in the Consolidated Co. is about 550. Some of them are millionaires and others, so we reliable informed, had to mortgage their property to get the money for this mining investment, being assured that dividends would be made months ago. The wealthy stockholders can stand it but the others are the ones hurting. We were written to for facts about its management and we didn't desire to give a lie in reply. Pray tell us how the Nugget interfered with their hotel or electric lights either? The hotel has been completed some eight months and has not even been furnished. The electric light plant has been ready for service and arch lamps in position since last summer. A committee from the council was appointed to make arrangements for lighting the town but the company or its managers wouldn't agree to make any contract. No, this is all stuff and the people here know it. They lost all hopes of the Company's success long ago provided a change was not made in its management. And it seems that the stockholders have lost confidence in some of its managers, judging from what the secretary, R. C. Thomson, told us. He said that he couldn't even get his men in the north to believe the Findley strike. The fact is they had to send the ore north before they would do it. We don't know what will be the result now. Capt. Ingersoll, the only one having any practical knowledge of mining here being left off of the board of directors entirely. He didn't favor many of the useless expenditures made but had no disposition to hang a jury where all were against him. Much of the money thrown away you might say, having no connection with the mine, is no doubt needed by some of the stockholders at home now. Yes, the money spent here by the company has been a big help and we trust a beneficial change will come about. Thousands of dollars were spent for property and options, that had no connection with any of their mines some as far as Union and Dawson counties. Much money was given for options and property in Dahlonega at high prices—one man being paid $700 for a little cottage and lot which he only returned to the tax receiver for $100 dollars. For months a man was employed at $2.00 per day, part of the time being furnished a horse and buggy to travel many miles from the plant taking options. The guide posts for Chattanooga, while Crown Mountain got theirs in Lumpkin county costing only ninety cents per hundred. Money was no object. And as an old miner expressed it the other day, the management for awhile reminded him of a woman wearing a silk dress over dirty under clothes. Now that the dress is somewhat soiled we trust that one not quite so gay will be donated and all go to work and do their duty and make their mines pay a dividend. It can be done.

Some Paris doctors are claiming that it will not be long before surgery for appendicitis will be a great thing of the past. They say that in many cases the disease is due to "helminthiasis," which means the "presence of two kinds of parasites, 'ascarides' and 'trichocephali,' in the coccum." After the doctors had consulted on a corner case of appendicitis, in which it had been determined that the knife was necessary, it was agreed to try sanitis, which drug eliminated the trouble, and saved the patient.

"It is with a good deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Druggist A. W. Sawelle, of Hartford, Conn. "A lady customer, seeing the remedy exposed for sale on my show case, said to me: 'I really believed that medicine saved my life the past summer while at the shore,' and she came so enthusiastic over its merits that I at once made up my mind to recommend it in the future. Recently a gentleman came into my store so overcome with colic pains that he sank at once to the floor. I gave him a dose of this remedy which helped him. I repeated the dose and in fifteen minutes he left my store smilingly informing me that he felt as well as ever." Sold by The Matthew's Drug Co.

David Nation, Mrs. Carrie Nation's husband, was robbed of $78 in cash, some jewelry and his rail road tickets in Marion, Ind. It is said he went to a circus and afterwards visited a saloon.

Miss Florence Newman, who has been a great sufferer from muscular rheumatism, says Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only remedy that affords her relief. Miss Newman is a much respected resident of the village of Gray, N. Y., and makes this statement for the benefit of others similarly afflicted. This liniment is for sale by The Matthew's Drug Co.

THE CROWN MOUNTAIN GOLD Mining & Milling Co.

The Crown Mountain properties are situated in the very heart of the Georgia gold belt and is in the radiating center of all the leading gold veins of the Dahlonega district. They embrace what is believed to be the mother lode of the Appalachian Range.

The extensive and rich ore bodies in sight upon these properties assure long continued mining operations and the inimitable guarantee of the permanent and increasing value of the stock of "The Crown Mountain Co."

The projectors of this company were the first to revive the mining interest in this district in 1896. After three years of careful and exhaustive examination of all the mines of the district of reputation as gold producers, and they had the choice of all, they selected the Crown Mountain combination as the ideal gold mine of the district which would yield or produce the most gold with the least expense. This opinion is shown by all the mining engineers, mining experts, miners and citizens of any standing in the district who are familiar with the properties. As an evidence of this we here state that more of the citizens of the town of Dahlonega and vicinity have taken stock in this company than have in all the other companies combined that have organized in this district.

The company is to be managed by practical business men—who have given much of their time to mining and mining operations, and always with unvarying success.

The present directory is for the most part composed of men who have had much experience in the mining enterprises, and under its efficient and economical management, and by reason of a visible gold supply that is practically inexhaustible, an investment in the stock of this company is undoubtedly safe.

The capitalization of the company is not commensurate with the visible productivity of the properties and is more commensurate with the capitalization of other justly celebrated mines in the district, but the management believe it will be able to make the stock worth above par.

We invite all prospective investors to make a personal inspection of the mines. We also invite them to examine all the other mines in the district—compare the quality and quantity of the ore and the facilities for economically treating the same. We have no fears of where the choice will fall.

Until further notice of advance in prices, the stock of this company will be sold at the minimum rate of $50.00 per share. For further information apply to J. F. or J. H. Moore, Dahlonega, Ga., or Donovin & McCabe, 10 & 12 West Spring Street, Columbus, Ohio, or Gen. Warner, Marietta, Ohio.

The circuit court of Jacksonville Fla., opened Monday over a bar room. The sheriff rapped for order with his mace on a roulette table while his honor opened the docket on the green baize of a faro table. Another anomaly was that a big cathedral hydraulic organ playing its own dead mass. While the flames enveloped it the currents of hot air rushed into the pipes, and the low, sweet notes of the basso mingled discordantly with the diapason until the falling walls silenced them. Truly, it was the song of the Phoenix on its funeral pyre.—Dalton Citizen.

Self-Pity.

Self-pity is a deadly thing. Whatever crosses our life may hold, whatever unweelcome tasks, unconsensual associations, griefs or burdens are ours, let us not fall into the habit of self-commiseration. It is a habit easily, almost unconsciously formed, and it will grow until it crowds out courage, usefulness, and sometimes even reason itself. The soul brooding over its own bitterness loses all power of discrimination, and sees all things in a distorted light. Every commonplace happening becomes a peculiar misfortune, and troubles, which are, "regarded as unique and unrequited. Face your trials honestly, call them by their names, but utterly refuse to sit down with them as Job did with his friends, for any long bemoaning. Suffer you must, but you need not brood. Give your sympathy to others, but fight as for your life against the luxury of self-pity.—Forward.

State Senator Thomas J. Dawson has introduced a bill in the Illinois legislature providing that bachelors over the age of 40 must pay a special tax of $100 when they apply for license to marry. Mr. Dawson is himself a bachelor, but as he is only 33 he allowed himself a margin of seven years under his bill in which to secure a wife without paying the increased price.

The Best Loved Women.

The world loves a true and noble woman more than the greatest beauty that ever lived or the most brilliant intellect. Within the memory of every one there are noble, womanly lives, which have been dearer and better to us than the most brilliant woman of history. Not for the beauty of a Helen of Troy or a Cleopatra, nor for the brilliancy of a George Sand or a Joan of Arc would we sacrifice these. Indeed, if we had to choose between one or the other, we would wipe from the slate of history those historic characters rather than destroy the sacred influence of noble mother, sister or wife which have shaped and formed our careers.—Home Companion.

The old saying is, that the man that helps himself will be helped by others. The man who waits to be helped by some one else often meets with disappointment, and what he expected often fails. The only way to make a success is to go ahead and not wait for anyone, but show to the people among whom you live that you will do the best you can under the conditions presented. If all men would be a little more independent this country would be in a much better condition. The man who acts on the above principles is respected by the men who know him and is often helped on to success. We are all observed and our actions bespeak a good deal for our lives. Hence it behooves all men to be upright and to do unto others as we would have them to do unto us. Never expect something for nothing, for if you do you are not acting honestly towards your fellow men.—Ex.

The Folly and Finality of Suicide

The question whether suicide is a sin may be left to the theologians and casuists; but that it is a fatuous, crazy or craven proceeding the news of every day supplies proof.

Yesterday the telegraph reported the self-shooting of a man Altoona, Pa., because he "couldn't stand the horrible gloomy weather." If he waited one day more he would have seen the glorious sunshine again—and within a month might have been grumbling at a drought.

On the same day a silly little girl of sixteen killed herself because she couldn't see her sweet-heart every night. Six months hence she would probably have been ready to exchange him for a new one; at any rate she will never see him no more.

In a western city the other day two bank officials who had been detected in embezzlement killed themselves after writing maudlin letters to the wives and children whom they left to bear the burden of disgrace and work for support alone. Was not this unpardonable cowardice and selfish shirking.

Not a day passes that some man does not kill himself for what he thinks is "love," but which is really a peevish and egotistical disappointment as not being able to "have" one woman out of a million. Frequently he puts a climax on the tragedy by killing also the object of his fancy. What would be thought of a fisherman who drowned himself because one finny wanderer got away? Are there not "as good fish in the sea as ever caught?" There may be in this world troubles so great or sorrow so crushing that escape from them by the short cut of suicide present itself as a temptation. But it is usually a folly generally a mistake, and always an experiment that can be neither recalled nor repented of. —New York World.

An Englishman's Slow Wit

Every one has heard of the lawyer named Strange who upon dying called his family around him and said that on his tombstone he wished to have engraved, "Here lies an honest lawyer." Some one suggested that people would not know whose the tombstone was. "But," said the dying lawyer, "they will. Every one will say, 'Why that's strange!'" An Englishman told it in this way: A very clever barrister was dying. He was very clever indeed. His family were devoted to him and asked him what his last wish were. "Now, I've forgotten what the lawyer's name was, but that doesn't make any difference with the story. He was very clever indeed.

When his family asked him about his last wishes—he was very clever, you know, a wit even on his deathbed—he said, "Have inscribed on my tombstone 'Here lies an honest barrister.'" Very clever man, you see. "But," said his wife, "how will any one know who you are?" "Ah, my dear," he answered, "every one will say, 'That's very extraordinary.'"

Round About the House.

Leather boots and shoes may be softened and kept from cracking by well rubbing them with castor oil. They should not be worn for about twelve hours afterward.

Do not use galvanized iron or tin for drinking water, as they are dangerous. Always use clean wooden or paper pails for drinking water, and have especial care as to their purity.

If a moth miller is seen in a closet it is a good plan to burn a camphor gum very promptly. Frequently this simple precaution if taken early in the spring, will rid that closet of moths for the season.

A good method of cleaning painted wood work employs withing. Dip a flannel cloth into warm water, and after squeezing it out nearly dry dip it into a dish of whiting. Apply it to the woodwork and little rubbing will take off the dirt. Wash the whiting off with clear water and finish by drying with a soft cloth.

Atchison Globe: The Globe lately printed a story to the effect that a certain Atchison woman was so tenderhearted to kill a chicken, but wanting the chicken for dinner, and being pressed for time, she picked the chicken alive and then waited for her husband to come home to kill it. The story has been doubted. It was told The Globe by J. F. Woodhouse, so prominent a member of Trinity church that he often conducts the services and is known as father John.

How He Earned Breakfast.

I must have walked the streets (of Richmond) till after midnight. At last I became so exhausted that I could walk no longer. I was hungry, I was everything but discouraged. Just about the time when I reached extreme physical exhaustion I came upon a portion of a street where the board sidewalk was considerably elevated. I waited for a few minutes till I was sure that no passerby could see me and then crept under the sidewalk and lay for the night upon the ground, with my satchel of clothing for a pillow. Nearly all night I could hear the tramp of feet over my head.

The next morning I found myself somewhat refreshed, but I was extremely hungry, because it had been a long time since I had had sufficient food. As soon as it became light enough for me to see my surroundings I noticed, that I was near a large ship and that this ship seemed to be unloading a cargo of pig iron. I went at once to the vessel and asked the captain to permit me to help unload the vessel in order to get money for food. The captain, a white man, who seemed to be kind hearted, consented. I worked long enough to earn money for my breakfast, and it seemed to me, as I remember it now, to have been about the best breakfast that I have ever eaten. —Booker T. Washington in Outlook.

A New Disease.

A woman whose maid accompanied her to a vegetarian restaurant in London was soon the recipient of a protest.

"But, Mary," she argued, "the food is palatable—you cleared your plate—and it is certainly wholesome. Why do you object?"

"It isn't that had to taste, ma'am," responded Mary firmly. "But I don't call it wholesome; no, ma'am, not when they fill a body's plate with tomato and cabbage and parsnips and potatoes all at once and give you fishball things without any fish in 'em and goose things without any goose in 'em and croquette things made of mixed up greens. Sure, ma'am, it gives me confusion of the stomach!"

Forty years ago John R. Carter, owner of a coal mine at Tamaqua, Pa., came upon a party of miners who had built a fire at the mouth of a coal hole for the purpose of warming themselves. Carter jumped to the conclusion that the coal was stolen. In his anger he kicked the burning coal in a dozen directions. Some of the fire went down the coal hole. A week or so later the coal at the bottom of the hole was found to be burning. Efforts were made to quench the fire, but without avail. And the same fire is still burning. During the next few weeks, however, it will have exhausted itself and become a thing of the past. The penalty of a kick of Mr. O'Leary's cow was the burning of Chicago; the penalty of Carter's kick was a forty years' fire in his coal mine.—Ex.

Some Notable Presidential Tours.

Before and since Andrew Jackson's famous swinging around the circle, the presidential tour has been a well established custom. President Washington inaugurated the original presidential tour. In his diary he states that he had a conversation with Col. Hamilton on the propriety of making a tour eastward to acquire knowledge of the temper of the inhabitants toward the government who thought it a good thing and advised accordingly. The presidential party embracing the President, Secretary Tobias Lear, and five servants left New York on October 15 for their tour of 700 miles. Washington had no palace car—he was a splendid horseman—and like the others of the party covered the entire distance on horse back. All were well mounted and the imposing cavalcade greatly impressed the good people of New England. —Joel Mitchell Chapple in The National Magazine of May.

The Cheapest Man.

"The cheapest man I ever knew?" said the postman, according to the Indianapolis Sun. "His name was John Smith, and he was cheaper than pins on bargain days. He used to get letters from his brother-in-law, and would open the envelope by holding it over a tea kettle. Then he would take out the letter and read it, write an answer, put the answer in the same old envelope, and seal it up again. This done he would take it to the postoffice, explain that the letter couldn't possibly belong to him, and he didn't want to open another man's mail. Of course, as his brother-in-law's five days return card was on the envelope, the post-office officials would send it back."

Dr. Howard makes the statement as a fact, that if fruit and other trees are pruned on the new moon in May, they will not bleed, and the wounds will heal up quickly. He also states as a fact, that the best time to transplant boxwood and other evergreens is in the month of June, from the 15th to the 30th of the month. Clip off the ends of the long limbs of the bush planted. He knows by experience that this is the best time to transplant evergreens, and that four-fifths set out by him lived and grew well. Let others try it.

Livingstone Home: There are many kinds of suckers on dry land as well as in the water but the two biggest suckers now are farmers who buys his goods from a tramp peddler when he can buy them from his home merchant for 35 per cent less and the business man who sends his job work to some house out of town and expects his home paper to blow up the town and benefit him as much as his more enterprising neighbors.—Ex.

Every once and a while ear-rings are said to become into vogue again but as they are not becoming to the average woman they will doubtless meet with the same fate they have suffered so many times before. With evening dress ear-rings are perhaps an attractive addition, but at any other time they add some years to a woman's apparent age.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGGA, MAY, 24 1901.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

The railroad shops at Blue Ridge employ about 80 hands.

The machinists of the United States have struck and fifty-thousand are idle.

Mrs. McKinley, who at one time last week was reported to be dead is improving.

The Georgia Confederate Veterans homewill be formally opened on the third of June.

A negro at Thomasville was found dead the other night caused from drinking alcohol.

The farmers of Terrell county have had to plant their crops twice this year on account of destructive hail storms.

The Albany, N. Y., street car strike is off and everything is running on full time now, after several persons were killed and many wounded.

The five negroes convicted for the second time at Sylva, Ga., for the murder of Horrington and Moors last summer, have been sentenced to be hanged on the 14th of June.

The State of Georgia sold 400 acres of land to J. W. Bibb of Appling county, recently, for $4.50. It is wild land, swampy and marshy, but when cleared and ditched will be worth several hundred times the amount paid.

One of Gainesville's blind tigers on the public square at which place a person could step in behind a curtain and get a nice bottle of beer on ice, has recently been closed. So now when any of us go down there desiring to wet our whistles, have to give Uncle a dollar for a quart of his rye. Gainesville is like all other dry towns, keeps "wet" liquor for medical purposes the pint, quart or gallon doses. It's owing how sick a man is.

Two companies were organized in Dahlonega last week, being the Gainesville and Dahlonega Electric Railway Company and the North Georgia Construction Company. The officers and directors of the Railway Company are: Officers: Judge W. W. Murray, President; W. A. Charters, Vice-President; J. F. Moore, Secretary and treasurer. Directors: Judge W. W. Murray, J. F. Moore, H. H. Dean, W. R. Pomeroy. Those of the Construction Company: Officers: Genl. A. J. Warner, President; W. A. Carlisle, Vice; J. F. Moore, Sec'y and Treas. Directors: Genl. A. J. Warner, W. A. Carlisle, W. H. Black, Col. J. H. Moore, J. F. Moore. Books for subscriptions to the railway have been opened and now you have an opportunity of coming forward and showing by your acts and money how bad you want a railroad to Dahlonega. You will not be begged to give anything.

The digest of 1893 in the ordinary's office, being the first for Lumpkin county, furnishes some right interesting information. The Dahlonega district was then called "Capt. David Nichol's District." W. H. Thomas was tax receiver. Poll taxes varied years ago like other taxes. In that year they were 31¢; in 1840, 15¢, and later on up to the war 25 cents. The value of town property was $29,926, which included that of Auraria district, it being the largest place. In the county at that time were 925 slaves valued at $479,237. Daniel Davis was the wealthiest resident of the county, being worth $32,926. Harrison W. Riley was the next wealthiest. Davis owned 38 negroes and Riley 30. Three negroes enjoyed their freedom here in 1833. The colored population at that time was much larger than it is to-day. Besides the women, children and old negroes only 64 pay a poll now, and the entire value of their property returned is only $9,320.

Confederates Meeting.

CAMP MARTIN No. 1.
May 7, 1901.

The veterans met at the court house at 9 a. m., and together with the citizens, the Ladies Memorial Society and the teachers and pupils of the Dahlonega Graded School, under the command of Capt. W. H. McAfee, marshal of the day, marched to the cemetery, decorated the soldiers graves and listened to addresses by J. B. Brown, Prof. J. M. Martin, H. V. Maxwell and Senator W. H. McAfee. The old soldiers hearts were cheered by sweet songs by the children. After which the veterans proceeded to the court house for the transacting of such business as might come before it. The meeting was called to order, Capt. W. H. McAfee presiding.

Capt. F. M. Williams having given notice of his intention of resigning the position of Commander the following persons were elected to serve for the ensuing year: Capt. Joseph Allen, President and Commander; W. H. McAfee, vice-Commander; J. B. Brown Adjutant; T. H. Worley, Chaplain; H. C. Wheeler, Surgeon; Wm. J. Worley, Secretary and Treasurer; F. V. Moose, Historian.

On motion a committee of three were appointed to revise the roll of membership, marking those dead and removed, which consists of the following members: J. B. Brown, G. W. Burns and Wm. J. Worley.

Committee on Relief: W. H. McAfee, chairman, Tilmon Davis, W. T. Bryson, F. M. Williams, A. M. Hyden.

On motion the city papers were requested to publish these proceedings.

On motion adjourned to meet again on Thursday, July 4, 1901, at 10 a. m.

Representative Bruce, while out fishing Tuesday discovered a large eel in eddy water making an effort to get up into a dam. After breaking his cane two or three times he jumped into the water and threw it out on the bank, where he beat its head and tail and stuck his knife in its throat. Then he went to the house where another effort was made to kill it. Finally it was put into a pot of hot water and the eel got out of it. After so long a time it gave up the ghost and was prepared for the dinner table. Mr. Bruce says that it was the slickest and hardest eel to kill he ever encountered before.

Tax Receiver Healand has made bond.

Notice to School Teachers.

The next general examination for Georgia teachers will be held on Saturday June 1st, 1901. The questions upon "Methods" will be taken from "Rourke's Methods." The same "Manual" that was used last year will be used this year. All desiring to stand said examination in Lumpkin county will meet me in Dahlonega on the above named date.

THE NUGGET

DAHLONEGA, MAY 24, 1901.

An "ice cold fact"—Matthews found.

The Ellijay mail failed to arrive Tuesday on account of being water bound.

The measles have broke out among some of the Dahlonega Graded School children and now they will spread.

The baptizing that was to have taken place last Sunday down at the Yahoola bridge had to be postponed on account of the rain.

Last Saturday some of the boys and young men amused themselves in Dahlonega by pulling a live king snake over the public square tied with a string by the neck.

Dr. Stow was fined one dollar and cost last Tuesday by Mayor Price for changing the run of water from one side of the street to the other in front of or near his residence.

A lot of ore was sent here the other day from S. A. Ross, of Alabama, directed to the U. S. Mint. Mr. Ross is considerably behind the times. No mint has been in operation here since the war.

Not a single countryman could reach Dahlonega Tuesday on account of the rain and swollen streams causing produce to become scarce. The physicians could not even reach their patients out in the country.

Will Price is now engaged in making the first pressed brick ever manufactured in Dahlonega. They are nice ones and will sell like hot cakes, provided he decides to make more than he will need for his own use.

They are talking about enlarging the Methodist church. It is natural to infer from what the minister told them while in the pulpit last Sunday that the house is large enough unless they had more religion.

We picked up an old account the other day just to examine the prices before the war. Among the articles we found a pint of syrup 20c. Now you can get the best that is made at from 40 to 60 cents per gallon, and yet some people grumble about high prices.

The military department of the N. G. A. College is again in charge of a regular army officer sent here by the war department, being Capt. Columbus C. Cusick, a retired officer some sixty years of age, who arrived in the city on Saturday afternoon and reported ready for duty immediately afterwards. Since the officer was called away at the beginning of the Spanish-American war this department has been in charge of one of the college professors.

Thirteen northern gentlemen of Ohio arrived in our city Tuesday night at about 9 o'clock who were soon comfortably quartered at the Dahlonega Hotel. The object of their visit being to examine Crown Mountain mining property, all of them for the first time except one. Since then they have been making an inspection of both the veins and the manner in which they are to be worked, all of which seems to give them perfect satisfaction and no doubt they will take a direct interest in Crown Mountain now.

The farmers of this section were made to smile last Saturday at the falling of a refreshing shower, being the first one for three or four weeks, moistening the ground in good shape for the growing crops. On Sunday following a much heavier rain fell accompanied by hard wind and some hail. Up about the mountains the storm was still heavier. Trees were broke off and blown down and some of the hail stones were as large as patridge eggs. Then it commenced raining Monday and continued until Tuesday doing much damage to the crops and roads and some bridges raising the streams higher than they have been for many years.

Go to J. H. McKee for machine needles.

Klondyke is hot beside Mat shows soda fountain.

The Dahlonega bank will open about the first of June.

Col. J. H. Moore, left this week for a short visit to Nashville, accompanied by his wife.

We understand that a telephone line will soon be established between Dahlonega and Auraria.

Sheriff Davis enjoyed the first mess of English peas last Friday, we have heard of this season.

You can always tell a person who has not given up all hopes of getting to heaven. He will not lie to the printer.

Prof. Colvin was absent from the city a few days last week representing his lodge in the State Knights of Pythias.

The photographs being turned out by G. D. Bruce are just as nice as can be made any where. If you want anything of the kind call at once and avoid the rush.

Last Friday a man who had just scheduled to keep from paying some honest debt, had the check to ask us to send him the Nugget on time. If any one wants to try their hand on prayer he is a good subject.

The department is being asked to establish a new postoffice in the neighborhood of the Jay settlement to be called Mary with Sam McDonald as postmaster. Quite likely this office will be established as it is on the line of the Dahlonega and Ellijay route.

But few veterans went out last Friday, the time fixed for decorating the soldiers graves buried in the cemetery at this place. Some of those who never failed to be present have passed away and the number is gradually growing less as time passes on and in a short while not one of the old soldiers will be left to meet on these solemn occasions, naturally causing others to lose interest in them.

Prices of goods have been considerably reduced at E. S. Copelands. For the present he will sell you Macaroni 71 cts, 4 pkgs out ment 25c, ham and breakfast bacon 10c, mince meat 3 pkgs 25c, best green coffee 10 and 11c, best full patent flour 65 and 70c per quarter sack. A little investigation will save you money. He also keeps a general line of Heinz's pickles. You will also find the very best groceries here at the same price you have been paying for an inferior article elsewhere. And if the ladies wish any white and colored lawns, pique, muskies, percale, lino cloth, ladies undervests, hosiery, dress handkerchiefs, wigging, silosia, India linen, all over lace, towel, etc., at lowest possible prices go to Copelands.

A negro female preacher came up from Gainesville and talked at the colored Methodist church last Sunday and Sunday night. She didn't create much of a stir during Sunday as it is a rare thing for people to shout but little during the day. Why it is we do not know unless they feel a delicacy in such actions. If the Lord retired early they would never be heard or seen by Him and would not be in it at all. Now back to the preacher woman. That night she caused some commotion and by words and actions touched the cord of some of the most hard hearted sinners. Several who went there for mere curiosity, with eyes so dry that the lashes when touched rattled like shucks were made to weep and bellow like spanked children. A female backslider who fell from grace years ago, and received several wounds by striking the rounds of the descending ladder, set in to crying and continued until after day light. And last but not least, when the contribution box was opened for the reception of money, one drinking fellow gave the woman the last half a dollar he had, risking luck for something to get his morning dram with. This is what the woman preacher visitor caused in two talks.

Delicious cream and sherbet daily at the Matthews fount.

Capt Asbury and Representative Underwood of White county, were in the city Tuesday.

Mrs. Vaughn, mother of William Vaughn of Dahlonega, died in Dawsonville Tuesday night.

Nearly the entire culvert or flume across the street between Stricklands and Halls old lumber yard fell in Tuesday.

Fl. fas. were issued against all persons last Monday who had failed to pay their sanitary taxes for the first quarter.

David Head came in Wednesday and swore out three warrants for Lewis Ash—for burglary, carrying concealed pistol and trading mortgage property. He is now in jail.

When needing any kind of goods go to J. F. Moores. The price and quality of goods will be sure to please you, and polite, and accommodating clerks ready to wait on you.

The injunction case of F. L. Murray vs. J. T. Miller, et al, which was to have been heard in Gainesville last week by Judge Estes, was postponed by the plaintiff until the 11th of June.

Charlie Crisson was fined $2.00 and cost by Mayor pro tem Lilly last week for discharging his gun on the street while on his way home from the drill field. The Colonel gave all the boys present many words of advice which if heeded will save any trouble in the future.

It was reported that Young McGee, a son of John M. McGee, who was injured at Ducktown, Tenn., recently by a cave, was dead, but we have since learned that the sufferer is still alive, although being mashed up pretty badly, one leg and arm broken besides other injuries.

Complaint having been made to Mayor pro tem Lilly last week during the absence of Mayor Price, about persons lives being endangered by the target practice of the cadets on the college ground, an order was issued for such practice to be discontinued for the present, and all firing has now ceased.

The freshest dirt much damage in this county. It carried away the London bridge and badly damaged the old Wimpy mill. Cane Creek bridge pillars gave way. At the Findley an engine was washed in and down the creek. The big pump came near dropping in after the foundation was affected by the surging waters.

While the well at Hall's Villa was being cleaned out Wednesday a nice show of gold was panned from a vein in it. Afterwards Mr. Maxwell, one of the guests of the hotel took a pan and made a test from the surface of the square in front of the Villa and found it to be worth about $20 a ton. A few days previous Manuel Howell, colored, picked up a 25 cent nugget on the street. This is why Dahlonega is called the Golden City.

We were shown the other day by ordinary Huff an old envelope which was made by hand during the war out of very inferior paper as no other sort could be obtained then. The envelope contained the address of Capt. James Kelly who died in Dahlonega several years ago. It was found in one of the old wild land books which had been sent to Atlanta to be bound. It looks strange that it did not get lost after being handled so much.

Capt. W. J. Worley has been employed to secure the rights of way, etc., for the Gainesville and Dahlonega Electric Railway line, which is already out discharging his duties, causing things to look very interesting to all persons who feel an interest in this much needed enterprise. Judge Murray, the president of the railroad company, says that there is certainly a bright future in store for Dahlonega—in a short time it will have the necessary railroad facilities, a population before long of 5,000 inhabitants, with daily papers and many other enterprises we do not have now.

Mining Notes

The price of Crown Mountain mining stock has advanced which is a good showing. Being $65 per share now.

It was right interesting last Tuesday after the rain ceased to see the little boys on the public square and streets panning out gold.

Mr. Howe has secured a number of Lumpkin county miners and gone to work on property near Murfreesville, in Hall, who, we understand will erect a small stamp mill.

We were shown by J. F. Moore this week some concentrates in which we could see the free gold plainly. It's true we had to look through a magnifying glass, but we never saw any this rich before.

We give space this week to a mining article written to the Manufacturers Record by Mr. Maxwell who has been here for some time making a careful inspection of the mining belt of this section, which you will find interesting as well as correct.

Work has been suspended on the Ashley and Van Vleet dredge boat until the latter gentleman visits California and inspects the boats of that section, so as to be able to build one for the Chestatee as good as any that float in the waters of California or any where else.

The black sand in the Chestatee river at the Ashley boat proves to be worth $18 per ton from a careful assay recently made. When some plan is adopted by which black sand can be saved and successfully treated the biggest kind of money will be made in mining here.

The delay in the shipment of machinery and the loss of time during the rainy days will prevent them from getting the water on top of Crown Mountain by the first of June. It will be two weeks later or more. The canal was completed and the water turned on the wheel at the power plant several days ago.

The large thick vein in the shaft on the Standard is still interesting them. They have been drilling in it some fifteen or twenty feet so we are informed and have not got through it yet. It is low grade ore but the quantity is what is required to keep a mill moving so as to be profitable, and it looks like this will fill the bill.

Some think that the big vein of ore recently struck in the 900 foot tunnel is worth $20 a ton, judging from the panning down at the Hand. This is very encouraging as the mouth of the tunnel is only a short distance above the mill enabling them to dump the ore off into the bin whenever they get ready at a very nominal cost.

The freshest last Tuesday caused all mining operations to have to cease for a day or two. Down at the Hand the water got up into the mill and over the wheel causing the air compressor to stop and all the underground hands on both the Con. and Standard had to quit work. And on Tuesday the water was off of the ditch. At the Crown Mountain pumping station the levee burst but was repaired before any damage was sustained.

Logs are being received at the Findley for the purpose of building a new dam, the present one having about rotted down and washed away rendering them unable to run the mill. Work is still progressing on a tunnel by the company endeavoring to strike the Findley shoot considerably lower than it has ever been reached yet. It is slow work, however, as the drilling all has to be done by hand. Witt is still in search of another rich pocket while Christy and Campbell are driving steel and looking for the shoot at another place. Whether they will succeed before the present lease expires on the last of June cannot even be guessed at as the pockets are very irregular—sometimes the pockets are seventy feet apart. Then again they have been found to be not more than ten feet of each other.

The Georgia Gold Mines.

In last weeks issue of the Manufacturers Record, published at Baltimore, under this head we find an article from the pen of H. V. Maxwell concerning the mines in and about Dahlonega, a portion of which we publish because it is the most conservative report of our mineral resources we have seen in any newspaper by a non resident spectator. Mr. Maxwell came to Dahlonega some time ago for the purpose of making an examination of her gold fields and has lost no time in carrying out the object of his visit. Being a practical miner he does not have to guess at anything. Neither does he have to rely on any one else. Being possessed of this knowledge enables him to give reliable information about the subject.

After giving an interesting history of the first discovery of gold here and the establishment of a mint and the large amount of yellow metal produced by the Barslow mine, Mr. Maxwell tells of what is going on now, beginning with the Findley ridge, the rich shoot in which had just been struck at the time he penned his article. He says:

"Findley ridge lies about one-half mile south of Dahlonega. It is about 500 feet above the level of nearby streams, and is about three miles in length. Although the ridge enjoys the reputation of being the 'backbone' of the belt, at present it is a particularly interesting proposition, inasmuch as within the past few days a strike of the Findley shoot has opened its golden doors again. The shoot was lost several years since, but J. W. Witt of Dahlonega 'struck it,' and the legends telling of pockets not larger than a peck measure which produced from five to eighteen hundred dwts. have to a great extent been confirmed. Mr. Witt, with two associates, secured a six months' lease on the Findley mine and mill from the owners, the Dahlonega Consolidated Gold Mining Co., and while treating the lower-grade ores it yielded good returns. Yet, anxious for greater gain, work was instituted in search of the shoot. This others soon became discouraged and dropped out, but Witt still worked, and presently struck the lost chord, which the former operators had passed over and uncovered for a distance of 250 feet, never hitting the rich streak, but in some instances missing it only a few inches. The vein where I saw it measures about eighteen inches, carrying fair value upon an average, but near the center of which a streak ranging from one-fourth to two inches thick bristles with gold. Mr. Witt put in a pop shot that threw out about one cubic foot of the vein. That cubic foot of rock was worth over $300, and carried the most beautiful specimens of free gold I have ever seen. White quartz with perfect cubes of galena forming the base for a tangled mass of golden wires; little horns of gold, from an eighth to half an inch in length, and nuggets as large as an English pea congregated to form the basis for a fortune. Since I saw the vein Mr. Witt has stripped it, and one little shot threw out gold estimated to be worth $900. Although his lease runs only a few weeks, Mr. Witt will earn a competency.

This can hardly be classed as low-grade or surface ore, as the old work attained a depth of 300 feet. In my opinion, the vein is permanent, and no man will ever see the bottom of it. Leaving this point and moving southwestward upon the summit of the ridge, we presently encounter a cut about 150 feet deep by 500 feet long, which crosscuts the formation of the ridge. This cut paid, or it never would have been as its object was the decomposed material, and in the bottom the ore bodies, though getting hard, still go down, and undoubtedly will be followed or stepped, as a tunnel is now being driven at the base of the ridge to cut the ore bodies at water level. Still westward upon the summit for a quarter of a mile, and we are upon the Barslow mine. This property is idle now, although a mill stands at the foot of a large cut from which lots of money was made. Next we cross the Griscoomb, the Precher, the Columbia and the Crown Mountain, and here we will stop again.

Upon these properties lies what is regarded as the largest deposits of high grade saprolite in this district, while here has been opened another famous vein known as the 'Wallace.' Several tunnels have been driven through the saprolites, and the Crown Mountain Gold Mining Co., the owner, is about completed a hydraulic plant of large capacity and a 50-stamp mill with which to crush the quartz, while the values in the soft material will be amalgamated in a flume, which will also convey the hard ore to the mill.

The Wallace vein, where now being worked, is cut to a depth of 180 feet. It is three feet thick, and if you will walk along a drift at the bottom and hold a candle up to the vein you will see particles of gold larger than a grain of wheat sticking there in the white quartz of the vein, and you will feel a natural inclination to pick out one, but will find them securely anchored, as they were put there when the quartz was soft.

A member of the Crown Mountain Company called me into the office to show me specimens from a new strike, and as he picked up a chunk of quartz, weighing five or six pounds a section of it went to fall off, but it didn't. It was hung into the larger piece by a band of gold over a quarter of an inch wide—just binged together with gold.

Nothing short of final treatment will determine the value of a ton of this rock, but the average will no doubt satisfy the owners. One little bar of gold was taken from this vein. It weighed over seven dwts., while from the Findley battery a nugget weighing over ten dwts. was recently taken.

From the Crown Mountain we will follow the summit of the ridge, passing over the Capps & Bowen, where prospecting is being carried on, and where the saprolites are also found as a continuation of the Crown Mountain bodies. Here has also been cut a shoot of ore measuring 21x24 feet, which gives about five dwts. per ton average on a mill, while assays on the sulphurets run from $15 to $250. A mile further on and we descend the point of the ridge, crossing Cane Creek, and approach the Barslow cut, previously referred to, but here we will stop at the Dog Head vein, also the property of the Dahlonega Consolidated. This is an irregular vein of coarse white quartz, through which small veins of hornblende have been shot. The vein measures seven feet, so far as is known, and large portions of it are encountered which are solid quartz as white as snow, and very closely crystallized. The deepest work here is an incline about sixty feet deep, and I stood at its mouth, and as the bucket came up I saw particles of gold sticking promiscuously through the white mass. Some of the particles frequently run over one dwts. In addition to the quartz, the hornblende often shows free gold, and the workmen tell me it runs well. I do not know the value of the ore as a whole, as really not enough work has been done there to fully demonstrate it but I was told by a very reliable man that seventy-two tons, milled, gave 1,100 in free gold, while Mr. Bruce, the foreman, assured me that he milled seven and one-half tons and took 800 dwts., the most of which came from the battery it being too coarse to pass through the screens. A man who once took three wagon loads of ore under a short lease stated that it gave $62 worth of free gold. The last shot put into the vein blew out; among the others, one rock weighing about 150 pounds, and there are half a dozen nuggets half as large as a pea sticking in it. I am satisfied this rock will run over $100 a ton, and that is good enough.

HENRY V. MAXWELL.
Dahlonega, Ga.

As the result of the anti saloon agitation that has been sweeping over the state since the present session of the legislature began the plant of the McMinn Citizen, at Athens, Tenn., was destroyed by a mob recently. The press was wrecked, the type pild and one corner of the building pulled down. The paper had been a strong temperance advocate.

"It is with a good deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Druggist A. W. Sawelle, of Hartford, Conn. "A lady customer, seeing the remedy exposed for sale on my show case, said to me: 'I really believed that medicine saved my life the past summer while at the shore,' and she became so enthusiastic over its merits that I at once made up my mind to recommend it in the future. Recently a gentleman came into my store so overcome with colic pains that he sank at once to the floor. I gave him a dose of this remedy which helped him. Repeated the dose and in fifteen minutes he left my store smilingly informing me that he felt as well as ever." Sold by The Matthews' Drug Co.

The Thomasville Times says: "An editor stated in his paper recently that he had been kissed by one of the most beautiful married women in town, and promised to tell her name in the first issue of his paper in the next month. In the two weeks following his circulation doubled, but when he named his wife he had to leave town."

Miss Florence Newman, who has been a great sufferer from muscular rheumatism, says Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only remedy that affords her relief. Miss Newman is a much respected resident of the village of Gray, N. Y., and makes this statement for the benefit of others similarly afflicted. This liniment is for sale by The Matthews' Drug Co.

THE CROWN MOUNTAIN GOLD Mining & Milling Co.

The Crown Mountain properties are situated in the very heart of the Georgia gold belt and is in the radiating center of all the leading gold veins of the Dahlonega district. They embrace what is believed to be the mother lode of the Appalachian Range.

The extensive and rich ore bodies in sight upon these properties assure long continued mining operations and the indisputable guarantee of the permanent and increasing value of the stock of "The Crown Mountain Co."

The projectors of this company were the first to revive the mining interest in this district in 1896. After three years of careful and exhaustive examination of all the mines of the district of reputation as gold producers, and they had the choice of all, they selected the Crown Mountain combination as the ideal gold mine of the district which would yield or produce the most gold with the least expense. This opinion is shown by all the mining engineers, mining experts, miners and citizens of any standing in the district who are familiar with the properties. As an evidence of this we here state that more of the citizens of the town of Dahlonega and vicinity have taken stock in this company than have in all the other companies combined that have organized in this district.

The company is to be managed by practical business men who have given much of their time to mining and mining operations, and always with unvarying success.

The present directory is for the most part composed of men who have had much experience in the mining enterprises, and under its efficient and economical management, and by reason of a visible gold supply that is practically inexhaustible, an investment in the stock of this company is undoubtedly safe.

The capitalization of the company is not commensurate with the visible productiveness of the properties and is meagre compared with the capitalization of other justly celebrated mines in the district, but the management believe it will be able to make the stock worth above par.

We invite all prospective investors to make a personal inspection of the mines. We also invite them to examine all the other mines in the district—compare the quality and quantity of the ore and the facilities for economically treating the same. We have no fears of where the choice will fall.

Until further notice of advance in prices, the stock of this company will be sold at the minimum rate of $5.00 per share. For further information apply to J. F. or J. H. Moore, Dahlonega, Ga., or Donovin & McCabe, 10 & 12 West Spring Street, Columbus, Ohio, or Gen. Warner, Marietta, Ohio.

Whisky Famine in Kentucky.

There must be something like consternation in Kentucky. According to the information, a whisky famine is threatened. It is alleged that there has been a deficiency in production during the past three years, and that one man has secured a corner on the market, holding 20,000,000 gallons. From two to three cents has already been added to the price of the whisky per gallon, with the probability that other advances will be made.

A GOOD GOLD MINE.

The Crown Mountain and Its Excellent Management.

One of the most reassuring features of the Crown Mountain enterprise is that the management does not claim to have a bonanza that will enhance the value of stock a thousand fold. The managers have not exploited their properties with a brass band nor have they attempted to mine them with a bass drum. They have not presented to the public illusory pictures of fabulously rich mines that exist only in hope and imagination. On the contrary, their claims have been patently moderate in view of the fact that it is the uniform conviction of this community that Crown Mountain contains many chutes of high grade ore as rich as any that have yet been found anywhere. If there is a bonanza mine on the Appalachian Range then all indications point to Findley Ridge of which Crown Mountain is the apex and radiating center.

But these men know absolutely that they have in sight over 40 million tons of surface ore and soft quartz that will yield large profits per ton. In addition to this there is enough hard auriferous quartz ore in the Crown Mountain properties to keep 100 modern steel stamp running day and night for generations. Therefore the most scientific skill that money can command has been employed to devise and install a plant that will work this vast body of ore systematically, for permanently and economically.
For one year a large number of laborers have been steadily at work upon the construction and development of this great plant. There has been no inclination to conjure with luck, divining rods, Indian traditions or spiritualistic mediums nor to adopt the schemes of mining charlatans.

Everything has been performed according to scientific design in a most skillful manner for the accomplishment of a definite purpose.

As a result the Crown Mountain management will soon present an industrial enterprise that will be complete and practical in general scope as well as in every detail.
The mining of the low grade ores will yield a regular and persistent stream of profits.

There may be also veritable dividends resulting from high grade chutes that resident miners insist will be uncovered in Crown Mountain. But be this as it may, it is certain that there will be no dearth of profits as is usually the case with the enticing bonanza ventures that are continually launched from the West. In extent and relative value of ore bodies the Crown Mountain mines are similar to the Homestake of South Dakota, the Mercur of Utah, the Alaska-Treadwell and Alaska-Mexico of Alaska as well as the mines of the Transvaal. All these mines are of low grade ore of immense extent that are worked on a large scale and therefore are enormous regular dividend producers although the value of each ton of ore is but a few dollars. Being exempt from the extraordinary hazards of bonanza mining, they assume the unique proportions of permanent industries whose supply and demand are unlimited.
Hence their stocks are looked upon with peculiar favor and are eagerly sought and held with tenacity.

The cost of working the Crown Mountain ores will be but a fractional part of the cost required to work the ore of the above named foreign mines. This company will not be burdened with their heavy fixed charges for fuel, power, water and labor. Unlike them it will be able to use the hydraulic process which is the cheapest method of mining ever devised by man. The difference alone in the expenses of operation will aggregate hundreds of thousands of dollars each year in favor of Crown Mountain—representing in itself large dividends to stock holders. So far as human experience and foresight can discern there is not now an element lacking for the successful mining and milling of these ores.

In 99 western mining projects out of every 100 there are some one or more vital elements absent that cause this collapse. They lack either water, fuel, power, or an effective process of treatment.
Straggling miners from every state and territory of the West as well as from Alaska, Australia and Africa are undivided in their opinion that the natural elements requisite for successful mining exist here in rarely found combination. There are innumerable natural water falls that will furnish power, light and heat at a nominal cost; a mild climate that permits uninterrupted work the entire year; efficient white labor and immense bodies of precious ores that abound throughout our hills and valleys. If the South had not been scourged and impos-sessed by the war and had not been subsequently neglected and shunned by capitalists; or even if it could have offered inducements to prospectors whose only capital is energy and luck or had it been the recipient of merely a moiety of the assistance bestowed by the Federal government and R. Ry. corporations upon the West, it would now be a gold producing region second only to the Transvaal. But unlike the boomed West, there is no opportunity here for naked energy and luck. This uninviting condition has prevented an influx of thousands of prospectors and fortune hunters who have made Western and Alaskan mining camps famous throughout the world. Large capital, expert mining experience and mechanical skill are absolute prerequisites to the proper development of the southern mining areas the same as in the Transvaal. Happily for Dahlonega, however, Crown Mountain is abundantly endowed with these essentials that make it the harbinger of a new and prosperous era in mining for the long neglected Piedmont country.

Self-Made

Think you, young man, that any one of great men, or thousands of others of the world's great men in every field, was any more self-made than the other? Surely not. It is true that some have had greater obstacles to overcome than others, but the very work of fighting developed them and helped them what they were. Some were more gifted by nature than others, and outstripped those who were weaker. But mind you, every man was what he was because he had in degree worked and developed his peculiar talent or his peculiar genius. No one else did it for him. A man may be born with an extraordinary mind but if he makes an extraordinary man, he must work. He may inherit riches, but if he accumulates more, he must work. He may even be born a king, but it depends on himself what kind of a king will he be.

Do not deceive yourself, or let others deceive you, into believing that you will ever be anything but self made. If you ever become a poet or a priest or a sculptor, a statesman or an orator, a preacher or a leader of men, it will be because you are made such by your own will and work. Sad to say, on the other hand; if you become a thief, an extortioner, a highwayman, a tramp, it will be because you make yourself one.—Marietta Journal.

Rather Poetic.

The editor of the Acworth Post takes up his poetic pen and comes at us this way:
That fellow of the Dahlonega
Nugget,
If he finds a good story, he'll hug
it,
And right in his paper he'll plug
it.
That fellow of the Dahlonega
Nugget.

A Humble Apology

"We feel that an apology is due," explains the editor of the Spike-ton Bizzard, according to the Chicago Tribune, "to the estimable young woman who teaches at the school house, in District No.
5. Through the wretched blunder of a worthless tramp printer whom we trusted with the setting up of an item just as we were closing the forms of our last week's edition, we were made to say that 'Miss Ruby McConnell, the handsome and popular teacher in the Riggs neighborhood, is the proud possessor of an elegant new black beard.
We wrote it 'black beard.'"

Application will soon be made to the Secretary of State for a new railroad charter to be known as the Chattanooga, Ducktown and Walhalla Railroad. Said railroad will commence at a point on the Tennessee State line, in a northeast direction from the Chattanooga Central Depot, and traverse the counties of Catoosa, Whitefield, Murray, Fannin, Union, Towns and Rabun counties, Georgia.

A well known surgeon, of Philadelphia says that during his 37 years of practice he has seen 2,000 people die, and that he has yet his first one to see who has shown any terror at the approach of death, and that "the easiest thing of life is to die."

How To Gain Flesh

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of SCOTT'S EMUL-SION. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somewhat the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food, which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking

Scott's Emulsion

You will find it just as useful in summer as in winter, and if you are thriving upon it don't stop because the weather is warm.

WINE OF CARDUI
has brought permanent relief to a million suffering women who were on their way to premature graves. Mrs. Mitchell of Cardui, who has been a sufferer from her case. She suffered with the agonizing pains of menstruation. Her appearance was like a corpse for two months and she was unable to do any work. She suffered her vitality until she was a physician. Her nervous system gave out and she was unable to do any work.
Experience ought to commend Wine of Cardui to suffering women in words of burning eloquence.

It is within the reach of all. Women who try it are relieved. Ask your druggist for a bottle of Wine of Cardui, and do not take a substitute if ordered you.
Mrs. Willie Mitchell, South Canton, N. C.,
"Wine of Cardui got me out of my Black Belt. I have been a sufferer with falling of the womb and leucorrhoea, and my nervous system was so weak that I could not do any work. My husband and I tried to try Wine of Cardui and now I am well and now I have been a physician."

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, MAY, 31 1901.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

The small pox, or whatever it is, that was at Ducktown has become a thing of the past without a single loss of life.

Slaughter, the missing former detective who left Atlanta a few days ago after being fined $250 of twelve months, was arrested in New Orleans.

The graves of the confederate dead buried at Camp Chase, near Columbus, O., were decorated a few days ago by a large number of men from southern cities.

Jack Bell, a planter residing near Buena Vista, Ga., shipped the first crate of this year's peaches last week. They were sent to Alabama and brought a good price.

W. A. Quille, after being in Dahlonega for some months in the employ of the Consolidated Co., left this week for his old home in Tennessee. The Nugget will follow him.

Another cry of distress comes from Kansas. The wheat crop is reported to be so great that the farmers cannot secure laborers enough to harvest it, and a call has been made for 20,000 outsiders to go to their aid.

The damage to the Asheville division of the Southern railway by the recent floods in North Carolina is estimated to be a half million dollars. Reports from various portions of that state are really distressing.

Last week the grand jury of Lowndes county returned numerous true bills against prominent citizens of that county for playing a game called "set back" at hotels for cigars. A bill was also returned against the sheriff of that county for gambling.

While a negro was being taken from the jail to the woods at Oklahoma the other night by a mob to be lynched for shooting the deputy sheriff fatally, he sang "Nearer my God to Thee." Quite likely he got lost on the route and took the other end of the road.

Sam Jones is still kicking up his heels in Savannah, Ga., calling it preaching. If he can get to heaven after abusing and crucifying human beings, created by the Almighty, but few of us need to have any fears. God made man and if He didn't make him to suit Sam Jones he has no right to call them dogs and every other mean name he can think of.

Recently three of E. P. Portfield's children, residing in the mountains of West Va., were devoured by black bears. The little ones had wandered off from home gathering flowers. The bears feasted off all three of the bodies. The bones of the children had been crushed like straws, and the flesh stripped off with teeth and claws. One of the bears was afterwards found and killed.

The oil situation at Beaumont, Texas, is still exciting. Monied men are flocking there by thousands. So great has been the demand for office room that one hotel built a row of booths around its front and in every available place in the front yard and rents a desk room about four by six feet at from $150 to $250 a month, cash in advance. The price of land near the gusher ranges from $20,000 to $25,000 per acre.

Some newspapers are terrible liars. In writing of a cyclone out west one of them said it turned a well inside out, a cellar upside down, moved a township line, blew all the staves out of a kerosene barrel and left nothing but the bung hole, changed the day of the week, blew the hair off the head of a bald headed man, lifted the mortgage off a farm, blew all the cracks out of a fence and knocked all the wind out of a populist.—Comanche (Tex.) Jim Witt, in a raffle the other day drew a fiddle who will take pleasure in entertaining his friends with music as soon as he learns to draw the bow to perfection.

Commissioner Lindsey says that about 1,000 of 2,000 widows who have applied for pensions are entitled under the law who will draw as soon as the means are provided.

We are pleased to learn that little Brice Anderson who it was reported died in Gainesville some days ago from the effect of being run over with a wagon, is still alive and will soon be well.

Mrs. Geo. S. Owen, mother of our esteemed friend J. E. Matthews, of the Matthews Drug Co., Miss Bessie Hughes and Miss Nellie Hughes, of Marietta, Ga., are here the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Matthews.

The cool spell first of the week made it very unpleasant for persons who had taken down their heating stoves preparatory for summer. Men wore overcoats and we noticed one lady working in the garden with a cloak on. Strange things happen during strange weather.

When you take in commencement do not forget Davidson's City Gallery if you want a first class job. And students who desire further photographs of battalion and classes, etc., are requested to place orders for same at once and avoid the rush of work on hand during commencement.

It's strange how far some people will go after liquor. Last Friday a blockader came to town and engaged a keg of eight gallons to some dairies and half a dozen of them walked in the hot sun out into the country more than three miles after it, and at the same time when one of them buys a peck of meal from a merchant right here in town he has to deliver it to them. But this is not the whole story. Some of them not having the money wanted him to take clothing, as the legs of pants he wore were just struck his shin bones, but he didn't wish to increase his dry goods any, causing disappointment. Then they undertook to play a trick off on him, as has occurred frequently of late, telling him that

"there comes the revenue," thinking that he would run off and leave his liquor and they would get it, but they got disappointed again. He was a preacher's son and that was one of the times he meant to trust in the Lord for his safe return home, for he threw the keg of liquor into the wagon and left out in that direction, while the negroes returned to town beneath a hot burning sun with the perspiration dripping from their brows as big as young June apples.

Notwithstanding the fact that W. R. Crisson has reached the ripe old age of 84 he is still engaged in mining on Tan Yard branch. Mr. Crisson is one of Dahlonega's first settlers who has been engaged in mining ever since he came here, being a very successful operator, and loves gold digging so well that he dislikes to give it up.

The Dahlonega Public School closes to-day (Friday.) Simple exercises will take place—compositions, recitations, etc. An address or two will be delivered by some of the citizens, all together making it an occasion worth your presence. Patrons, citizens and friends of the institution are all cordially invited. Col. Charters will deliver medals.

In attending a temperance meeting in Dahlonega you will find much food for thought. The house will be crowded with people, some of whom pay a dollar per quart for rye whiskey and others who buy liquor by the gallon for "medical" purposes. It is like a preacher re-

Klondyke is hot beside Mat shows a cold fountain.

Fry size chickens sold in Dahlonega this week at 20 cents.

The bugs have totally destroyed some of our gardeners potato crops.

Last Sunday was childrens day at the Methodist church causing a large congregation to be out to engage in the appropriate exercises.

The tax digest of the town was advertised to be closed some time ago but upon an examination it was found that they could not close until the first day of June.

Another cold wave struck Dahlonega first of the week. We had neither snow nor frost but it was cool enough to make it very uncomfortable for bare legged country editors.

H. D. Jaquish, of Gainesville, was up on business Monday. Matters not how busy the gentleman is he always takes time enough to pay ye editor an annual visit with a dollar in his hand.

The law makes it compulsory on the justices of the peace in the county to furnish the tax receiver with a complete list of the tax payers in their respective districts for which services they are paid out of the county treasury.

Sam Rous, of Dawson near whose house an illicit distillery was found by the revenue officers some time ago, had a trial before Commissioner Baker Saturday and was acquitted. He told who owned and operated the still which let him out.

The prospects for the building of the electric railway from Gainesville to Dahlonega is very bright, really, much more so than it has ever been. Those interested have no ifs nor ands about it, but say they are going to build it and that at an early day.

In noticing a negro purchasing some black stockings the other night we couldn't help but think what a useless expenditure it was when one so black could slip on her shoes during the summer time and be as comfortable and look just as stylish.

One of the most prominent members of the Methodist church, who is above suspicion, uses extra caution about his jug. He keeps it up in the garret where no one can find it or reach it but himself. This keeps him from taking too much for fear that he might tumble down the ladder headforemost.

Just after the freshest last week our friend Bill Bryson, residing down on the Chestatee river, while out looking to see what damage had been done him, found a four gallon still, which had washed down from some blocklayers bidding place. Bill picked it up and carried it to the house but is like the fellow who got the elephant does not so what to do with it.

The members of Oak Grove church took the bread, drank the wine and washed each others feet last Sunday causing the presence of a large crowd. Foot washings are never engaged in by the Baptist people in towns and cities while most churches in the country of this denomination do, which evidently shows that the country people are over doing the thing else those of cities and towns are behind the dead line.

The ladies had a strawberry festival in the court house last Saturday night for missionary purposes and while a number of our citizens were enjoying their strawberries and ice cold drinks some parties sit on one of the public well curbs and ate potato and drank corn liquor until they got so full that they went off and left the bottle where it could be plainly seen by the minister and church goes the next day. It is hard to tell which crowd enjoyed themselves the most that night.

Our merchants nearly all seem to be doing a thriving business.

Capt. F. W. Hall has left Florida and returned to his farm at Ingleside, Ga.

All the students of the N. G. A. College will leave us within the next few days and we wish them a safe return to their homes.

Quite a number of students have already gone home. It is a hard matter to keep some of them until the end of commencement.

Nearly every boy about Dahlonega carries a pistol. Better quit it. Sometimes judges charge forty and fifty dollars for them being handled this way.

Our photographers are busy at this time making a lot of the school boys pictures to be left with their sweethearts for them to look at when they are gone.

There is some talk of a Presbyterian preacher being located at Dahlonega so as to enable him to preach twice a month here and visit other places in this section.

The college band has made rapid progress since band master Davidson has been with its members, which will enable them to furnish some splendid music for commencement.

Joe Ricketts now has his soda font up and spouting, where you can get something refreshing to drink all through the week but not being a druggist he cannot run it on Sundays.

Hope, the contractor of the mail route from Gainesville to Dahlonega was fined $25 for failing to make schedule time for the first quarter, which is causing them to get a move on them now.

Laborers seems to be scarce in Pickens county, causing a representative of one of the marble works to have to come to Dahlonega last Saturday in search of hands who induced a few to go with him. He will be back again.

The other day while Sheriff Davis and Geo. Walker were returning to Dahlonega they were thrown at near the Yahoola bridge by some one in the woods. The rock struck the buggy. An effort was made to discover the one who did it but it proved fruitless.

The report of the N. G. A. College, which is embodied in the University Catalogue shows that 58 counties are represented in the Dahlonega college and five states. This is a good showing, causing us all to feel proud of this institution and its faculty, as well as its trustees.

When you drink coffee why do you drink a coffee that is adulterated? If you will insist on having $10.00 then you will get the genuine article that is pure and wholesome. Sold in bulk only by F. L. Reese, E. S. Copeland, J. E. McGee, E. E. Crisson, Paul Casbelleberry & Co., and T. J. Smith.

Some parties who returned from Union county last week inform us that John Burnett and Abe Woody had a difficulty a few days ago in which Burnett got his head partly skinned with a rock and three ribs broke. It originated about a box supper where a vote was taken for the prettiest girl and the ugliest boy, resulting in Burnett's loss of getting the biggest vote through mischief, causing them to tease him, which raised the old mans dander, and he made at Woody with a knife, resulting as before stated.

There is so much raffling going on in Dahlonega by persons wishing to dispose of different things at a big profit that the faculty of the college interfered far enough as to keep students from taking any part in this, the next thing to a game of chance. For instance we have known persons having a four or five dollar watch which they would raffle off and make ten or fifteen dollars. Every little boy who can raise a nickel or ten cents is spending it for chances and it may be that the council will make an effort to stop it.

Strawberries are now finding their way to market causing ye editor to smile with delight for we always did like pies.

Wm. Turner was brought in by the revenue officials Wednesday who went the way that all blockaders go. He lived in Dawson.

The members of the Masonic fraternity here are spending near $175 in improvements on their hall, which will cause it to present a much better appearance when completed.

The loylest couple seen any where last Sunday was the two females—one white and the other colored—attending negro meeting at night. They went arm in arm and seemed so happy.

Some people endeavor to be so modest that they can't read certain things in a newspaper. This is all put on. We used to take the Police Gazette and have loaned it to many a church member of both sexes, who read it with much interest behind closed doors.

It will cost about one hundred dollars to repair the damages at the old Wimpy grist mill caused by the late freshet. The property now belongs to the Consolidated Company and whether they will put the mill in running order again has not even been intimated, and we doubt very much about it being done, as a little grist mill is a very small affair to a company of 550 persons organized to mine for gold, and why it was purchased by them we cannot say.

Last Monday R. C. Thomson, secretary of the Consolidated, Mr. Ikes, the general manager of the mines and Virge Jackson went to the Blue Ridge through which a tunnel was started some time ago to run some of the streams of Union into this county so as to strengthen their water power. We did not learn the purpose of their visit, whether it was to look after a large number of tools that had been stolen, left there after work suspended or whether it was to see about the power.

Many of our readers will remember an account in the NUGGET some time ago when the revenue officers were on a raid in the eastern part of this county some unknown person removed the taps from their vehicle. A few days ago the house of Marion Turner was searched in that vicinity by the officials for liquor when taps supposed to be the missing ones were found in his house together with a lot of malt corn. The taps were tried and found to fit the axles of the vehicle from which those were removed.

A large number of the colored people went over to Hickory Grove church last Monday in respect of Andrew Stephens, col., who died in Gainesville on Sunday and was carried to that place for burial. Andrew went to Gainesville from Dahlonega some time ago. There he got into trouble and was to have had a trial near two weeks ago but was too sick to sit up and his case was postponed. He is now done with this earth and has gone to be tried by a higher judge whose court is destitute of lawyers and witnesses. What the verdict will be we will never know.

There is no telling the damage one little still can do to the churches of a neighborhood, especially where the members imbibe too freely in its production. There is trouble of this kind now at certain places in Lumpkin county. The members have been drinking, fighting and quarrelling so much that none of them felt like taking the sacrament when the time arrived. There would be no use of temperance societies if all members would live up to the rules of the church. Neither would a still or blind trip interfere with a church if its members would quit patronizing both.

Delicious cream and shorbet daily at the Matthews fountain.

Athlona Sunday and Monday papers didn't reach Dahlonega until Tuesday.

We will now have a daily mail from Dahlonega to Porter Springs for the next three months.

More visitors have been here again this week looking at the mines with a view of making an investment.

We were shown this week a five dollar gold piece by merchant Will Jones which was coined at the Dahlonega mint while it was in operation many years ago.

A certain member of the Baptist church decided to raffle off his fiddle the other day but after receiving six or eight draws concluded that it was wrong and paid back the money. He said that he had prayed to get to heaven and was afraid to take any risk. So he still furnishes the neighbors with sweet strains of music, feeling more confident of reaching that beautiful land on high when the end of his journey is reached.

We wish to call the attention of commencement visitors to the seven piles of slate rock and one of gravel to be seen out on Clarksville St. They were not put there by the Indians. It is the work of the street committee of the city council, or one of them at least. The first intention was to put them on the side walks near two months ago, it was supposed, but really it was because two of the street committee are merchants and one believes he is entitled to some of the town trade as much as the other and had these rock hauled and paid for in the store, charging the same up to the city. They are of no benefit where they are at. This is one reason why the street and property taxes continue high. If we are not correct in this statement let us know and we will make it so.

Geo. Turner, of this county, was bound over by Esquire Allen last Tuesday charged with stealing Rev. J. E. Blackburn's watch which was taken from his house in Dahlonega some three weeks ago, and committed to jail in default of a hundred dollar bond. Turner was seen with the watch at church out in the country last Sunday by a man noticing Mr. Blackburn's loss in the NUGGET who rode over eight miles and back that night to tell the owner. A warrant was procured at once and the sheriff went out and brought both the defendant and watch in. The watch was found hanging up in Turners house still having the owners name and address fastened to the chain. The defendant stated that he got the watch from his wife who procured it in some manner while living in Dahlonega when he was serving out a sentence in the Fulton county jail for blockading.

The cellar, over which A. G. Wimpy's store house stood, in which this departed citizen did business for many years, was filled up last Tuesday. Many people stood by and related incidents which had occurred at this stand in by gone days and the many changes that had been made since it was first occupied before the Indians were carried to another country. The building was first occupied by a man named Pinchback who carried a large stock of goods and did a thriving business until he had to leave the country. Pinchback had a little furnace in the back end of the establishment where he mixed a little gold with some other kind of yellow metal and run it into nuggets which he sent to Augusta and other places and sold for gold nuggets. They were ragged and so much like a real nugget that it required a close inspection to detect one. This business was carried on for some time before he was spotted, and before Pinchback could be arrested he departed leaving his stock of goods in Mr. Wimpy's hands and everything else behind and was not heard of any more until he got killed in some manner.

Mining Notes

Capt. H. D. Ingersoll, of Dahlonega, has been appointed by Gov. Candler as a delegate to the 40th International Mining Congress to be held at Boise, Idaho, on the 23rd of July next, who has accepted and notified the Governor that he will attend if his health permits.

Jim Witt, notwithstanding his lease expires on the Findley in a few more weeks, has been working faithfully in trying to strike another rich chute. The indications are good and he is liable to hit one at any time. If he fails the company will likely strike it with their tunnel lower down when far enough, but it will take some time yet for them to reach the point.

Successful work is progressing by Birch Bros. and Ashley boats, at the Betz, Turkey Hill, Calhoun mines, etc., robbing the streams, valleys and mountains of their precious metal, while arrangements are being made as fast as possible to act likewise on Crown Mountain, which is the most attractive point just now on account of its large bodies of rich ore, being under the management of one of the most successful miners of Lumpkin county, who knows no such word as fail. The gentleman we refer to is Mr. J. F. Moore.

Having been written to and asked about Crown Mountain and its management several times we will briefly answer the questions as follows: We were born and reared in Lumpkin county, being now nearly 45 years of age; Crown Mountain is a rich gold mine, being one of the best and easiest and cheapest operated of any other we know of in the county; we have no individual interest in it but would have if we had the means; some of our citizens have stock in it and others would invest if they had any surplus money; everybody here look upon Crown Mountain as being a good mine; its officers are honorable, perfectly reliable, being men who mean to do right and make no misrepresentations about mining nor anything else; the general manager is a native of Dahlonega, a successful business man, who has a thorough practical knowledge of the mines of this country and is the right man in the right place.

So far but little changes have been made by the Consolidated or Standard Co's. Work still continues in the shaft and tunnel on the Hand and in the shaft on the Standard. Nothing is being done at the Barlow. A non-resident has been put in charge of the Doghead and Mr. Bruce, the old manager, who knows all about the mine will have to be dictated to by a stranger unacquainted with the belt or quit. The latter he prefers because he is a professional miner and has a good reputation as such, who cannot afford to work for a man or company unless his knowledge of mining is considered. He will go on the Hedwig property and work for Mr. Wahl. Mr. Bruce has opened the Doghead and has the rich vein showing up nicely, but it takes a man acquainted with the formation here to keep on track of the vein—the formation here being different to that of the west, past experience proving that western miners, nor no others, matters not how thoroughly they may understand operating in other parts, can do any good here unless they understand the formation of the belt. This fact was confessed to by Mr. Brooks, one of the best miners of the west who was brought here for awhile as manager of the Consolidated Co., who caused them to sink thousands of dollars by laying off shafts at the wrong place to cut the veins that had already been discovered. This same fact has again been thoroughly demonstrated at the Barlow. Thousands of dollars were lost there by the Pigeon Roost Co. and Mr. Pride, while trying to operate on book knowledge and in highfalutinary style.

This went on very nice for a while but eventually paying out money and receiving none in return became tiresome and the thing burst. For 9 years the property lay idle. Then it was put under the management of native miners and here is the place where Mr. Witt, our present ordinary, cleared thousands and thousands of dollars for its owners. We give these facts to show you that mining is like every other business, men of practical knowledge must be put in charge or the undertaking will be a failure and the report go out that the Georgia mines are a failure, when really it is due to its management, thus injuring you, I and the whole country. Since the above has been in type work has suspended in the long tunnel at the Hand.

We have been asked if it would not be best for the country not to say too much about a mine when it is a failure. It might be best for the time being to put a coat of white wash on but such work won't last long. When a lie is told it may do well for awhile but the truth will come to light sooner or later, causing things to react faster than a rolling ball down hill, and it is our intention to give facts when we know them. All the mines in this county will pay good dividends if properly worked. We have told our friends north so, and where a mistake is made in the management of good property it is our duty to post all those interested so the error can be corrected before it is too late. No mine has ever failed in this county yet where its owner or owners used native miners as managers and superintendents, while on the other hand when machinists, railroaders, carpenters or men of any other occupation except mining are put in charge of a mine, such operation has been a failure and always will be unless such person devotes much time in studying the belt. Men must know their business. It is an evident fact that where there are as much surface gold as there is in this country that plenty exists deeper down. The people of this country have been confident of this fact for many years but they were and are yet, destitute of means for a deeper investigation. In the past few years gentlemen of the north have clearly demonstrated this fact. Take the Betz mine for instance. The shaft has not yet reached quite 275 feet but the vein still continues and gets richer. Notwithstanding all this the mine failed to pay when it was managed by a foreigner, but since Mr. Betz has had it placed in the charge of a Georgia miner large monthly clean ups are being made. This is the Georgia miners home. He depends upon mining for a living and it is to his interest to work them in an economical manner so as to make them pay. Mr. Hand, while alive and owning much of the mineral property now in the hands of the Consolidated Co. had about 150 stamps in operation under the supervision of practical Georgia miners, all of which paid. But they were not all operated at one mine. They were divided up as suggested by miners of the most practical knowledge of the mineral resources of this country. We are not guessing at what we say. We were born and reared in Lumpkin county which gives us an opportunity of knowing what we are talking about. In making these statements we do so without enmity to any one. We want all mines to prosper and each and every investor here made to feel happy over results, but this cannot be done at some of the mines until practical and cheaper management is adopted.

One of our Amanda, Ohio, subscribers under date of the 21st inst., who appreciates our correct mining reports, writes as follows: "I want to thank you for your editorials in the Nugget for I believe every word you say is true. I am a stockholder in both the Consolidated Co's and the management has proved at what you say. Bad management is not the worst to use I think."

A Sin to Get Drunk.

It is a sin to get drunk. It is a sin against self, against the family, against the state and the nation. It is a sin against God.

"No drunkard shall inherit the kingdom of God." The Word of God says so. It is a sin to get drunk; but, more, it is a sin not to say so. We fail it we do not take advantage of every opportunity offered to say so. Thousands of our fellow-men are asking this question every day. It is a vital one and its answer will be a help to or toward making those who ask it better or worse. There ought not, therefore, to be any uncertain sound in our replies. Every man who indulges in intoxicating liquor is fully persuaded in his own mind that its effect on him as an individual is evil, and only evil. He is not fully persuaded that he is injuring his family or his neighbor. He cannot, however, quiet his conscience as to his God, and so after each indulgence that deprives him of his senses, the question forces itself upon him. It is a sin to get drunk? What a day of thanksgiving there would be in many hearts if the answer would be a strong clear "Yes!"—Presbyterian Banner.

The Photographer: "But this picture doesn't look like her." Astute Assistant: "Of course, not; but it looks like she thinks she looks."

THE CROWN MOUNTAIN GOLD Mining & Milling Co.

The Crown Mountain properties are situated in the very heart of the Georgia gold belt and is in the radiating center of all the leading gold veins of the Dahlonega district. They embrace what is believed to be the mother lode of the Appalachian Range.

The extensive and rich ore bodies in sight upon these properties assure long continued mining operations and the indisputable guarantee of the permanent and increasing value of the stock of "The Crown Mountain Co."

The projectors of this company were the first to revive the mining interest in this district in 1896. After three years of careful and exhaustive examination of all the mines of the district of reputation as gold producers, and they had the choice of all, they selected the Crown Mountain combination as the ideal gold mine of the district which would yield or produce the most gold with the least expense. This opinion is shown by all the mining engineers, mining experts, miners and citizens of any standing in the district who are familiar with the properties. As an evidence of this we here state that more of the citizens of the town of Dahlonega and vicinity have taken stock in this company than have in all the other companies combined that have organized in this district.

The company is to be managed by practical business men—who have given much of their time to mining and mining operations, and always with unvarying success.

The present directory is for the most part composed of men who have had much experience in the mining enterprises, and under its efficient and economical management, and by reason of a visible gold supply that is practically inexhaustible, an investment in the stock of this company is undoubtedly safe. The capitalization of the company is not commensurate with the visible productiveness of the properties and is meagre compared with the capitalization of other justly celebrated mines in the district, but the management believe it will be able to make the stock worth above par.

We invite all prospective investors to make a personal inspection of the mines. We also invite them to examine all the other mines in the district—compare the quality and quantity of the ore and the facilities for economically treating the same. We have no fears of where the choice will fall.

Until further notice of advance in prices, the stock of this company will be sold at the minimum rate of 65.00 per share. For further information apply to J. F. or J. H. Moore, Dahlonega, Ga. or Donavin & McCabe, 10 & 12 West Spring Street, Columbus, Ohio, or Gen. Warner, Marietta, Ohio.

Col. W. L. Albright, of this city has just recently invented and had patented, a device for saying gold. The name of his patent is: "The Turtle Shell Gold Saver," and he says: "If placed on the plate, in the proper place and shape, which requires no expert to do, it will retard, twist and turn the crushed metal, as it comes from the battery, that every particle of matter, as it flows over the plate, must come in contact with the mercury." It has the right name, for it is exactly shaped like a turtle's shell; and will, no doubt, prove profitable when used.—Southern World.

London's Forbidden Gates.

There are two gates in which it is an honor equal to the star of an order to be allowed to drive through. One is the gate in the arch of the Horse Guards and the other is that of the Marble arch. The Horse Guards' arch is guarded by a stalwart trooper, who stands in the way of any carriage that attempts to go through, and should occupant not have the right to pass turns it back. The bishop of London, it may be remembered, was stopped once by a sentry, who did not know that his lordship is one of the privileged persons. When there is any dispute claim if the occupant of the vehicle who wishes to go through the arch has patience enough to wait he can remain until one of the high court officials has given his decision according to immemorial custom.—London Telegraph.

Biliousness is a condition characterized by a disturbance of the digestive organs. The stomach is debilitated, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated. There is a loss of food, pain in the bowels, dizziness, coated tongue and vomiting, first of the undigested or partly digested food and then of bile. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets allay the disturbances of the stomach and create a healthy appetite. They also tone the liver to a healthy action and regulate the bowels. Try them and you are certain to be much pleased with the result. For sale by The Matthew's Drug Co.

Sad Indeed

A pathetic story from real life is related by an esteemed friend, who recently visited a distant city and looked up the home of two former schoolmates whom he had not seen for thirty-five years; they were brothers, and he found the older one at home with the gray-haired, widowed mother. The first glance into this home, the inmates of which he remembered with joy and gladness, convinced him that the demon of strong drink had wrought havoc within its walls. They talked over bygone days, which seemed to cause the sad hearted mother to consider them the happiest of her life; her son was under the influence of liquor, and this being apparent caused the poor mother to be uneasy in the presence of the visitor; just as he was leaving the younger son came in, reeling drunk. Victims of the traffic we license that is all. Thousands are upon thousands of just such homes all over our land, and our licensed liquor business is producing them, in increased numbers every year.—The Index.

Miss Florence Newman, who has been a great sufferer from muscular rheumatism, says Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only remedy that affords her relief. Miss Newman is a much respected resident of the village of Gray, N. Y., and makes this statement for the benefit of others similarly afflicted. This balm is for sale by The Matthew's Drug Co.

Kissing the Bride

A hundred years ago the matris or finished the marriage service by kissing the bride; then all the gents (men) present followed his example, and in some regions the bridegroom meanwhile went about the room kissing each of the ladies in turn. There were brides who received the salutation of a hundred or more gentlemen in one day. As if this were not enough, the gents then called on the bride after-ward, and this call was known as "going to kiss the bride." In some parts of the Puritan country kissing at weddings was discontinued, but there were other parts of New England in which it was practiced with the greatest latitude and fervor. There were often rude tricks played upon the wedding party.

"It is with a good deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Dr. J. W. Sackett of Hartford, Conn. "A lady customer, seeing the remedy exposed for sale on my show case, said to me: 'I really believed that medicine saved my life the past summer while at the shore,' and she became enthusiastic over its merits that I at once made up my mind to recommend it in the future. Recently a gentleman came into my store so overcome with colic pains that he sank at once to the floor. I gave him a dose of this remedy which helped him. I repeated the dose and in fifteen minutes he left my store smilingly informing me that he felt as well as ever." Sold by The Matthew's Drug Co.
